Janos Vajda, of 26 Clark Road, and his dog, Tushi, stop during a walk by Pomps Pond to talk about Town Meeting warrant Article 45, the so-called "pooper-scooper" bylaw. He only half-supports it. See page 30 for his and other residents' views on the proposed bylaw amendment.

Town Meeting begins Monday

7 p.m.

By Don Staruk

Town Meeting begins this Monday night, April 11, at 7 p.m. in Dunn Gymnasium at Andover High School. The meeting is scheduled to last three nights, also starting at 7 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday nights. James D. Doherty, town moderator, has said he will try to stop the meeting by 10:30 each night.

Officials are preparing for up to 3,000 residents to attend at least the first night of the meeting, when the discussion and vote is expected on the proposal to spend $40.5 million for school additions. Approximately 2,000

On stormy days, South School students are sometimes excused from class to get pails to collect the rain water leaking from the roof. At Sanborn, as in many Andover elementary schools, instructors teach students in closet spaces. The heating system at Andover High School wastes thousands of dollars per year, and, system-wide, donated computer programs remain unopened because the computers are too old to be useful.

Selectmen voted 3-2 April 1 against supporting the proposed tobacco control bylaw that would ban smoking in all restaurants, municipal buildings and retail stores in town.

Article 52 on the Town Meeting warrant would also ban cigarette vending machines, except in bars, and prohibit free-standing, self-service cigarette displays, and require cigarettes to be sold from behind a counter. These last two items are aimed primarily at preventing minors from having access to cigarettes.

Violations of the bylaw would be non-criminal offenses punishable by fines: $50 for a first offense, $100 for second or subsequent offenses; and/or temporary suspension of the Board of

Land trust responds to allegations

By Don Staruk

Susan Stott, president of Andover Community Trust, Monday night responded to allegations made at a selectmen's meeting two weeks ago that members of the land trust misused their positions in town to have an article removed from next week's Town Meeting warrant.

Mary Carbone, of 3 Cyr Circle, questioned selectmen on the removal of an article that would have allowed the selectmen to accept an undersized lot at 28 River Road as a gift to the town in lieu of $2,200 in property taxes. Ms. Carbone said that the land owners, John and Julia Tomzak, had decided

TOWNTALK

Andover residents Eva and Suren Loosigian with Jay Leno, center.

"We're not VIPs, but he makes us feel like VIPs. Jay Leno recognized us. He called us up on stage before his show and had his picture taken with us," says Eva Loosigian of Blanchard Street.

She and her husband, Suren, were in California last month for their sixth visit to the Tonight Show.

They go back many years with Mr. Leno. Their son, Wayne, graduated from Andover High School with him, in 1968. She remembers a Halloween party the two young men organized for more than 100 teen-agers on the Loosigian 12-acre farm when they were in high school.

After the show last month, Mr. Leno called the Loosigians back on stage to chat some more. Mrs. Loosigian says she sat in Mr. Leno's leather chair and found it quite comfortable.

Last year, when Mr. Leno's mother died, he placed great trust in Mrs. Loosigian, she says.

At that time, he said to her, "'Now, you are my adopted mother.' To Wayne, he said, 'And you, buddy-boy, you drop in and see my dad when you're in Andover.'"

Mrs. Loosigian says her son does visit the older Mr. Leno frequently.

Erik Asgeirsson of Andover was formally inducted as a Peace Corps volunteer at the U.S. Embassy in Dar es Salaam, Tanzania, in February. The ceremony marked his satisfactory completion of a 10-week group training session, which included instruction in the Kiswahili language and African cultural studies.

During his stay in Arusha, Mr. Asgeirsson lived in the home of the Nchymbi family, consisting of a father who is a senior librarian at the International Conference Center, mother and three children between the ages of 19 and 25. Arusha is a city and province in northern Tanzania near the border of Kenya, between the base of Mt. Kilimanjaro and the Serengeti National Park. Mr. Asgeirsson had the opportunity to climb Mt. Meru and visit the Ngorongoro Crater with members of the Peace Corps group.

As a member of the U.S. Dept. of Education, Mr. Asgeirsson has been assigned to teach high school physics in Tunduru, a remote spot in the bush country of southern Tanzania in East Africa. The school was built by the United Nations in the 1970s for Mozambique refugees during their struggle for independence. Mr. Asgeirsson describes the educational system as extremely competitive, with only 10-15 percent of the students continuing on to high school because of pretesting, so the students tend to be highly motivated. He shares a room in the school complex with a Peace Corps volunteer from Oklahoma who has been there for six months.

Erik Asgeirsson with his hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Nchymbi.

Tunduru is a town of 30,000 located in the Ruvuma Region near the Ruvuma River. His monthly letters home are enthusiastic about his experiences and filled with humor and insight. He claims, "I will write anyone who writes me."

Mr. Asgeirsson graduated from Andover High School in 1986 and received a BSEE from George Washington University in 1990. After working for AT&T for three years as a supervisor of the International Cable Engineering and Construction, he was granted a 2 1/2 year leave of absence to serve in the Peace Corps in East Africa. For further information, contact the Asgeirssons at 245 Holt Road.

Article 20: $40.5 M for schools projects: What will it cost me?

By Neil Fater

Although school officials would like to focus on the overcrowding, maintenance and curriculum issues addressed by the $40.5 million school building project, Article 20, for many, the plan is about one thing, and one thing only: money. Or, to put it differently, "How much is it going to cost me?"

The answer, for the average Jane or Joe, is $124 for next fiscal year, FY 1995, according to Finance Committee information. This will be the first of 20 annual payments.

For the average homeowner – one with a $224,750 house – this $124 bill will become a $191 bill in Fiscal Year 1997, the peak year of the 20-year debt-service schedule. But the amount will continually decline in cost every year thereafter.

By FY 2005, the debt exclusion cost for the average home-owning taxpayer will be $110.

Homeowners can roughly determine their personal price tags if Article 20 is passed by using the following formula: Every homeowner's tax bill will increase approximately $56 per $100,000 of property valuation in FY 1995. The amount owed will climb to a high of $86 per $100,000 in 1997. This cost will then come down to approximately $75 per $100,000 in 2000 and $49 per $100,000 by 2005.

These figures, originally released in mid-March, are the numbers the Finance Committee will present at Town Meeting next week. They are not exact numbers, but should be reasonably accurate, according to Don Robb, chairman of the committee.

If anything, these figures might be fractionally high, because they were based on "what appeared to be very conservative estimates," said Mr. Robb. In addition, the technology components of the South and Sanborn projects have been altered since these figures were released, lowering the overall cost

AHS 24 Hour Relay Challenge grows

Organizers predict people from all walks of life will join teams of 10 for the 24 Hour Relay Challenge, a fundraiser June 11 and 12 at Andover High School.

One team that already has signed up is made up of the Andover High School cheerleaders, led by their faculty adviser, Kelly Egan. The girls, who have spent months cheering on the high school varsity teams, will gather to be cheered around the track.

The 24 Hour Relay Challenge will bring together the Andover community to work for a common goal of having fun and raising money.

All team members will take turns walking, jogging or running the track in relay, until the 24 hours are up.

In the meantime, the field will be buzzing with music, entertainment, food and fun. Visitors are invited to cheer the teams on during the day.

To form a team, gather 10 participants and contact David Gangi or Jay Darrin at Andover High School. Teams may be student, adult or mixed. All student teams must have an adult coordinator present at all times. There is a limit of 36 teams allowed to participate.

The money raised by the $500 entry fee per team will benefit a Service Mini Grant Program to promote service projects in Andover, the funding of a yearlong calendar of intergenerational activities and the support of Andover High's Community Service Program.

What will Article 20, $40.5M for schools, cost me?

The $40.5 million project will be paid out over 20 years, in large part because the state reimburses over a 20-year period. The net cost to the town will be approximately $27,673,000, after state reimbursement.

The project can be broken into four components: the Andover High School project, the South School project, the Sanborn School project, and the technology component that will have an impact on all other school buildings. According to School Building Committee members, the state has informally said that the High School, South and Sanborn projects will be reimbursed at 60 percent for both the principal cost and interest of these three components. Thus, approximately $38.5 of the $40.5 million will be reimbursed by the state at 60 percent for both the principal cost and interest.

A technology update is a part of the Andover High, South and Sanborn plans.

In the interest of providing both equal educational opportunities at all elementary schools, and a steadily-increasing technology exposure to students as they progress through the system, a technology update to the remaining schools has been added to the overall project. This effort at technological equity comes with a $2 million price tag. There will be no state reimbursement for this $2 million technology piece. The town will pick up the entire amount.

FinCom Chairman Don Robb talks about Article 20.

School officials are pushing hard to pass the school building project this year because state officials have told the School Building Committee they believe the state will no longer reimburse such a high percentage of the interest after this year. According to Jim Marsh, chairman of the building committee, the best guess is that the state will probably reimburse only 30 percent of the interest for a town like Andover, adding millions to the cost of an identical project.

Mr. Marsh said he was informed by state officials the state will likely begin reimbursement for the High School and South projects in FY 1997, and start reimbursement of the Sanborn project in FY 1998.

The state has "frozen lists" of other communities' building projects from earlier years that it must reimburse before it funds this year's new projects. However, because of the high number of seats added to the High School and South buildings, 400 and 141, respectively, Mr. Marsh said he expects these two projects to be given a reasonably high priority. Sanborn will not have any seats added to the building and will therefore be given a relatively lower priority.

In theory, Andover is responsible for $18 million of the $40.5 million project, with the state picking up the rest. School-sponsored pamphlets promoting passage of Article 20 state that $12 million of the proposal pays for deferred maintenance projects that the town would be entirely responsible for anyway, if not for this proposal.

However, including the interest payments, the FinCom estimates the total debt service at $64,074,000 with the state reimbursing $36,401,000. This leaves a net cost to the town of $27,673,000.

Again, all of this is based on a number of assumptions. For instance, the FinCom assumed the interest rate of 4.75 percent for the technology piece and a rate of 6 percent for the High School, South and Sanborn components.

"We don't think it will be 6 percent; we think it will be less than that," but if the committee is to err it wants to do so by over-estimating the cost of the proposal, said Mr. Robb. This is likely to happen because the committee also assumed the South project would only be reimbursed at 55 percent. The School Building Committee now believes it will receive the full 60 percent for principal cost and interest of this project.

The FinCom also assumed that the 1994 tax rate will be maintained, something Mr. Robb said he does not believe will actually happen.

David and Barbara Chase visited Phillips Tuesday.

PA head visits campus

By Neil Fater

Barbara Landis Chase came home again – sort of.

Addressing the collective mass of students, staff, teachers and trustees of Phillips Academy for the first time, Ms. Chase, the new head of school, said Tuesday that Andover reminds her, in some ways, of the small community in which she spent her childhood. Ms. Chase encouraged her new academic community to come together to attain the lofty goals it has set for itself in its new five-year plan. She named quality of community life, financial aid, program support, and maintenance as areas deserving of high priority.

The child of a country doctor and nurse, Ms. Chase said family has always been an important part of her life. She said that one thing she learned, from everyone from her 99-year-old grandmother to her husband and children, is the importance of balance in one's life. It is this sense of balance she said she wants to bring to Phillips Academy.

"I think we need to balance work and play and work and rest sometimes," she said. "Perhaps most fundamentally, we need to promote a balance between high academic standards (and) a very keen sense of personal support."

But Ms. Chase will have to do without the support of husband, David, for several months, as he will stay behind in Maryland to continue his duties as executive director of the Society for the Preservation of Maryland Antiquities. "For a short time – we hope not too much longer than a year – David will be staying in Baltimore," said Ms. Chase.

Ms. Chase was awarded a white Phillips baseball cap and a sweatshirt and was greeted warmly by representatives of all general groups on campus.

Her husband was given a cookbook by the Ladies Benevolent Society and dubbed their "spiritual leader," as spouse of the 14th head of the academy.

"Several people spoke of perfection and how that plays a role at Andover and in the community," said Mr. Chase. "I look forward to being a part of this campus that strives for perfection."

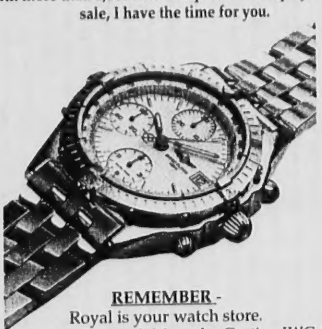

On July 1, Ms. Chase will succeed Donald McNemar, the head of the private school since 1981. She has served as head of Bryn Mawr School in Baltimore, Md., since 1980.

At&T recalling 160

AT&T said it is recalling 160 production workers at its Merrimack Valley Works manufacturing facility in North Andover. Union officials were notified of the recall and employees are being contacted immediately.

The recall comes as a result of increased orders for the transmission systems and components produced at the plant. The 160 workers will be recalled from among 644 AT&T employees who were laid off in August following the completion of a $6 billion, two-year upgrade to AT&T's long-distance network. Another 100 of those workers were called back by AT&T within the past four months.

together an advisory board consisting of child development and computer experts, and started up Bright Ideas.

Leslie Silverstein of 26 Burton Farm Drive, has brought this new-age home shopping style to the Merrimack area. She is currently the only consultant in the area, she says.

Ms. Silverstein began consulting in November, 1993. She says the company took off like a rocket. People to whom she presented the Bright Ideas products said the software is "engaging, exciting and on target in terms of children age groups and skills," said Ms. Silverstein.

Ms. Silverstein believes there is a real need for this type of service.

"When you go to a store, the package looks great, but you don't really know what's in it," says Mrs. Silverstein.

"Sales people in stores aren't really knowledgeable about children's software."

Ms. Silverstein, as a Bright Ideas consultant, targets the needs of the individual child. She believes that software is an investment and should match the needs of the child.

Contracts with publishers of Bright Ideas software precludes them from selling directly to schools, but the firm has a large home market, say officials.

About 25 percent of Bright Ideas' software material is not available in stores, according to Ms. Silverstein.

The software is targeted for children ages 3 through high-school age, and is available for IBM, CD Rom, Macintosh and Apple computers. Dissatisfied customers can return the product in 30 days.

Burning season

Open air burning season runs through May 1. Anyone wishing to burn brush must apply for a permit at the fire station.

The fee is $10, which covers the entire 1994 burning season. Once the permit has been issued, a number will be assigned and a person has to call the fire station each day he or she wishes to burn to see if conditions permit.

THOSE RADON BLUES

Radon gas can be a worry for homeowners. This naturally occurring substance has been found in homes throughout the country. It is odorless, colorless and undetectable without sophisticated testing. Radon has been linked to lung cancer, and environmental experts caution that it should not be taken lightly. Remember that if radon gas is detected, it can usually be removed at a relatively low cost with simple ventilation systems.

If you are concerned about radon in your home, you can have it tested. You can contact your nearest branch of the Environmental Protection Agency for information about how to find a reputable company qualified to perform the tests. If you are buying a new home in an area where radon has been a problem, you might consider including a radon test as part of the structural contingency clause. And if you are planning to sell your home, you can test it for radon before placing it on the market. If there is no problem, your fears will be put to rest, and even if radon is detected, you will be able to deal with it before it becomes an issue in a purchase negotiation.

Learning about Town Meeting

As Andover prepares for Town Meeting, set for April 11-13, a group of elementary school students are becoming acquainted with the format for Town Meeting and with the process involved in writing a warrant article. Thirty fourth- and fifth-graders from Bancroft, South, West and Sanborn schools met recently at Sanborn, under the guidance of Elaine Smith from the League of Women Voters, Denise Littlefield, assistant principal of West Elementary, and Jade Reitman, principal of Sanborn.

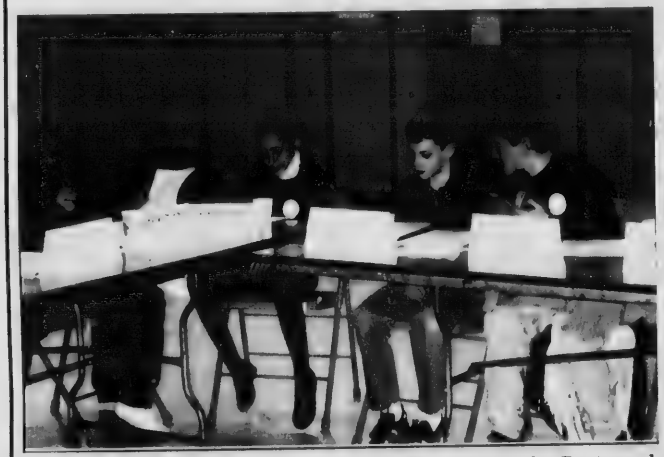

The Andover Townwide Student Council worked to become familiar with such terms as quorum, line item, motion, postpone/table, and point of order, as well as learning about the roles of the town manager, town clerk, finance committee, finance director, and planning board, to name just a few.

They then proceeded to draft eight warrant articles and will choose one of the articles to defend at the Youth Town Meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, April 12, at 4 p.m. at West Middle School.

Three of the possible articles dealt with the subject of school lunches; the others were concerned with recycling at the schools, a new stop sign at a downtown intersection, a youth center in town, school lockers and donations of items to a local animal shelter.

Elaine Smith helps Townwide Student Council representatives Matt Keough and Evan Dunn understand Town Meeting procedures.

Students Danielle Mendoza, Hannah Goldstein, Luke Basta and Mike Byrne discuss the steps necessary for preparing a new warrant article and bringing it before Town Meeting.

Jade Reitman, principal of Sanborn School, offers advice on the writing of a warrant article to South School student Mike Huang.

Andona Society and YMCA team up to host Spring Fling

The Andona Society has announced that it will sponsor "Spring Fling," a social event for all middle-school students who live in Andover. Spring Fling is a recreational event scheduled for Saturday, April 16, from 8 to 11:30 p.m. at the Andover/North Andover YMCA. Activities will include a swim, aerobics demonstration, basketball, volleyball and access to the game lounge and mat room. Refreshments will be served and a dance will be held at 10 p.m. This event, which is described as a chemical-free celebration for young Andover residents, is being co-sponsored by the YMCA, which has offered the use of its facilities.

The Andona Society, a voluntary organization for Andover women, sponsors civic events on behalf of children and adolescents. In recent years, the society had sponsored a program for the screening of public school children for undiagnosed visual problems. This year, the society has decided to sponsor a one-time event that would

West Elementary School's fifth-grade class shows

...'A Jungle of Talent'

◀ West Elementary's fifth-graders recently put their talents on display in a show for the community. One of the skits they performed was called "The Surprise Party." Written by Joe Furey (center), the skit opens with Aunt Ida (Eric Jenike) making a mushroom/guacamole soufflé for her favorite nephew, Bob (Joe). The dish tasted so bad he fed it to Gwen the Dog (Naomi Tuman). In the back row are Andy Timko, Mark Baggeroer, Raja Surapani; (middle row) Eric and Joe, and Chris Cataldo; (front row) Bethany Upton, Naomi Tuman and Tara Flanagan.

◀ This trio, performing under the name Solitary Confinement, did a version of Queen's Bohemian Rhapsody, a 1970s rock anthem that enjoyed a second wave of popularity thanks to the film Wayne's World. In the Aerosmith T-shirt in front is James Paull; behind him, Brad Johnson is in the Megadeath T-shirt, and Mat Jones is wearing the AC-DC T-shirt.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D.

DOING THE WHITE THING

It is common knowledge that teeth are supposed to be white. The truth of the matter is, however, that tooth color ranges from pale yellow to yellow-red. As we age, our teeth are more prone to staining. In most cases, this slight age-related discoloration is barely noticeable. Teeth do not have to be snow white to be attractive. If patients are not content with their yellow teeth, they may want to consult with the dentist about professional bleaching. This in-office technique involves the application of oxygen-releasing chemicals to the teeth that react with discolorations and oxidize them out. Professional bleaching is safer and more effective than self-treatment bleaching methods, which have come under FDA scrutiny in recent years.

Brushing and flossing may be important home care routines to follow, but bleaching is best left to professional treatment and supervision. When you want your smile to be the best and the brightest, call us for an appointment Mon & Thur 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6, at 475-2431. We offer a full range of dental services including preventive and restorative care and cosmetic dentistry. Don't you owe it to yourself to find out just how pleasant a visit to the dentist can be? We're easy to find at 296 Lowell Street, Rt 133, with convenient access off Rt 93.

P.S. Localized discolorations may be treated with bonding, veneers, or caps.

FINANCIAL STRATEGIES

GETTING AN EARLY JUMP

Employees who decide to retire at age 62 receive monthly Social Security benefits that are about 20 percent lower than what they would have received if they had started drawing benefits at age 65. This monthly difference is more than slightly offset by the fact that 62 year-old retirees receive 36 payments by the time they reach age 65. Without taking into account any annual adjustments, it would take roughly 12 years for the benefits received by 65 year-olds to catch up with the amount received by 62 year-old retirees. This is something that employees should bear in mind when weighing a decision to retire early. Yes, early retirement brings smaller benefits, but it also takes a dozen years for the 65 year-old's benefit, total to catch the 62 year-old's. This is but one factor that should enter your decision making when planning for retirement. Please let us at Baystate Financial address the full range of concerns surrounding this important area within your overall financial planning. We look forward to hearing from you.

Our office is located at 10 Essex St., here in Andover. Call us at 475-9212 to schedule an appointment. For your convenience we also have an office at 100 N. Washington St. in Boston (617-523-4500). I am a Chartered Financial Consultant. Written and verbal references are available upon request.

HINT: The 62 year-old who retires on a $160 monthly Social Security Benefit would collect $23,040 by the time he or she reaches 65.

Andover schools to hold registration for kindergarten, grade 1

The Andover public schools have announced plans for kindergarten and grade 1 registration.

Kindergarten registration is for children who will be 5 years old by Sept. 1. Children who will be enrolling in the first grade in September as a transfer from another school district or private school should also register.

Where and when

Registrations will be taken at the following places, dates and times:

Shawsheen School, Anne's Lane, Monday, April 25, 7-8 p.m.

Sanborn School, Lovejoy Road, Tuesday, April 26, 7-8 p.m.

South School, Woburn Street, Wednesday, April 27, 7-8 p.m.

West Elementary School, Beacon Street, Thursday, April 28, 7-8 p.m.

Bancroft School, Bancroft Road, Monday, May 2, 7-8 p.m.

What takes place

Arrive promptly at 7 p.m. Staff will review completed registration forms and required documents. A large group informational session at 7:30 p.m., with staff introductions and descriptions of the orientation and screening program, will be followed by a tour of the school.

PTO parent volunteers will answer questions and ask parents to fill out volunteer forms. They hope to find parents willing to work on the PTO boards.

Parents must bring children's immunization records, lead-screening results and birth certificates, as well as the completed registration, certification of address, parent-questionnaire and health-history forms. It would be helpful if parents also brought child-development information (e.g., baby books).

Vision screening is required and will be conducted at individual schools in the fall.

SHED registration will be held Saturday, April 9, in the Shawsheen School gym. Numbers will be given out at 8 a.m. and registration will be held from 8-10 a.m. For more information, call Sydney Bialo at 470-3556.

Group seeking hosts for French students

Andover residents have the opportunity to learn about the culture and customs of France by hosting 25 foreign-exchange students, ages 14-17, for three weeks this summer. The students will come under the sponsorship of the International Education Forum, a non-profit organization and one of the oldest educational exchange programs in the United States. They will attend daily classes at Doherty Middle School and be kept busy with program-related activities. The most important reason they come is to become acquainted with members of the community. This is accomplished by providing each student the opportunity to live with an Andover family. The group arrives July 16 and returns to France on Aug. 6.

IEF is looking for families to share their homes and family life. Host families will provide a place to sleep, meals and some transportation. All students are fully insured and have their own pocket money.

For more information on IEF or becoming a host family, call Rachel or Philip Devlin at 373-4915.

MOTHER

" 'Put your helmet on,' I told him, before letting him ride his bike to our neighborhood corner store. Almost before I knew it, twenty minutes had past and I saw an ambulance rushing down our street. I knew it had to be Eric. I dropped everything and ran down the street to where the ambulance was."

NURSE

"We received a call from the Lawrence General paramedics that they were on their way with a ten year old boy who had been hit by a car. They had started an intravenous and had splinted what appeared to be a broken wrist. When the paramedics arrived with Eric in our emergency department, we began to evaluate a very frightened young boy and a very upset and anxious mother. After a thorough exam and x-rays, we were relieved to find that he only had a broken wrist."

Doctor Richard J. Iseke
Medical Director / Emergency Services

DOCTOR

"A nurse talked to Eric initially to calm him and let him know what we were doing. The challenge of meeting the emotional needs of Eric and his Mother was as important as the care of his injuries. Even though Eric's broken wrist required the services of an orthopedist to set it and cast it, he was able to leave that day.

As Eric left, he complained about still being able to write his book report."

The fund-raiser to benefit the Men of Merrimack College Scholarship Fund, a financial-aid program available to students currently attending the college, will begin with a cocktail reception and preview at 2 p.m., followed by the auction at 3. The event will be held at the Andover Marriott, 123 Old River Road. Admission is $10 per person.

Featured in the auction are more than 40 works from Peter Max. "As one of the foremost pop artists of the 1960s and early '70s, Max's colorful imagery, combining commercial cultural symbols with cartoon-like humor, has reached millions of people around the world. Spanning opposite spectrums, his subjects have ranged from household objects, to fashion and foods, to homages to the masters. He evolved from a visionary pop artist of the 1960s to a master of neo-expressionism and his techniques with vibrant color have become a part of the contemporary American culture," according to a spokeswoman for the college.

The works in this auction include original etchings, engravings, lithographs and woodcuts by some of the European masters from the 17th through 20th centuries, and include selections by Cezanne, Chagall, Dali, Durer, Erté, Goya, Miro, Picasso and Rembrandt. There will also be a selection of 19th-century Japanese woodcuts by Hiroshige II, Kunichika and Toyokuni III.

Merrimack College has received a collection of original paintings, watercolors, hand-signed and numbered lithographs, serigraphs and etchings from the collections of Yaacov Agam, Alvar, Harold Altman, Boulanger, Charles Cobelle, Laszio Dus, Robert Kipniss, Urbain Huchet, Lebadang, Fanch Ledan, Andras Markos, Marcel Mouly, Jean Claude Picot, Yitzhak Tarkay, Yuval Wolfson and Victor Vaserely.

Thomas Connors is chairman of the event. Other organizers are Men of Merrimack board members Timothy Brennan, Donald Gallant, Karl Gladstone, Ronald Hill, Jerome Jozak, John Mele, William Novelline, John Shuman, Robert Vogler and Evan Williams.

To reserve a ticket, call Maureen Lanigan at 837-5448.

Consider These Thoughts

by Garry A. Burke

MOMENTS OF REFLECTION

Even the most receptive mind cannot incorporate all that it perceives to be of great value without a considerable degree of reflection. It is not enough to simply take in ideas. One must ruminate over them and evaluate their worthiness. After that, a conscious effort must be made to assimilate those that are of value. In the words of Frederick William Robertson, "It is not the number of books you read, nor the variety of sermons you hear, nor the amount of religious conversation in which you mix, but it is the frequency and earnestness with which you meditate on these things till the truth in them becomes your own and part of your being, that ensures your growth."

The same can be said of those people who are close to us. It is the quality of time you spend with a loved one, not the quantity, that is important. When a loved one dies and the shock of that loss recedes and the pain swells, it is often difficult to think about life without that special person. At Burke Funeral Home, you'll find a professional, caring staff who are here to help you adjust during this difficult period. When you need us, call us at 475-5200 or see us at 390 North Main Street.

HINT: "Meditation is the nurse of thought, and thought the food of meditation." Charles Simmons

A look at other school articles

By Neil Fater

21, 24, 31

Undoubtedly, the $40.5 million school buildings project is the mountain on the landscape of Town Meeting. However, there are several other school-related warrant articles worth attention.

• Article 21, the article immediately following the building project, is intimately linked to the $40.5 million dollar plan. It seeks the appropriation of $1 million to pay the architects to complete the plans for Andover High, South and Sanborn schools.

The architects are paid in segments, and their current funding will carry them through Town Meeting. The $1 million will cover their costs through June 1. Building plans and figures must be submitted to the state on June 1 in order for the project to receive 60 percent reimbursement on both the principal and interest. State officials have told the School Building Committee it is unlikely towns will receive a similar deal in the future.

If the $40.5 million buildings plan is approved at Town Meeting, this $1 million will become part of the project that is eligible for 60 percent reimbursement. In effect, this article will be a book-keeping article and the funds will be rescinded at a later Town Meeting.

But if the $40.5 million project is not approved and this article is passed, the town will be responsible for the entire $1 million. The town could then use the completed plans at a later Town Meeting to try to pass specific elements, such as the High School project only.

• Article 24 asks the town to permit the School Committee to use up to $175,000 in free cash to cover unanticipated special needs cost this year. The costs came as a result of the expulsion of several special

Fewer train whistles to blow in Andover

By Don Staruk

There will be approximately 104 fewer train whistles blown each week in Andover from now on.

Tom Urbelis, town counsel, told selectmen Monday night that the state's Department of Public Utilities, while denying the town's request to ban trains from blowing whistles at crossings in Andover, ruled that certain trains may not blow the whistles.

Commuter trains traveling inbound to Boston from Haverhill will not have to blow the whistles as they approach the crossings at the Andover or Ballardvale train stations. The reason for this is that the trains will be stopping at the stations before they cross Essex Street and Andover Street respectively.

Eight fewer trains each weekday will blow the whistles at those two stops. That's 16 whistles a day for five days, or 80 whistles. Another six trains a day will not blow the whistles on Saturday and Sunday, for a total of 104 fewer whistles each week.

The commuter trains will still blow the whistles at Austin Avenue and at Lowell Junction Road, and at all crossings when traveling outbound. Freight trains will also continue to blow whistles at all crossings.

Mr. Urbelis and other town officials said they consider the decision a partial victory, seeing that the DPU has denied outright most similar requests. Leo Doherty, of Buxton Court, who circulated a petition against the train whistles in 1992, also viewed the DPU decision favorably and Monday night thanked Mr. Urbelis for his efforts.

Town officials received complaints about increased whistle blowing in town in the fall of 1992. The complaints were that the whistles were being blown louder and more frequently than was past practice. Selectmen petitioned the DPU for complete elimination of the whistle blowing last year.

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

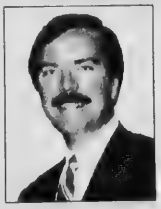

MUSCLE WEAKNESS

Along with the symptoms of tingling sensations and numbness, muscle weakness can be the source of concern and anxiety. In fact, muscle weakness should be taken as a serious indication of something wrong and be referred to the attention of the chiropractor. Whether the weakness occurs in the muscles of the arms, legs, or elsewhere, its cause may be traced to a pinched nerve in the neck or other area along the spine. In many cases, a ruptured disc may be exerting enough pressure on a nearby nerve that it stems the flow of electrical impulses traveling between the brain and the affected muscle. By relieving this pressure, the chiropractor can hope to restore the muscle to its proper level of function.

If you are experiencing any of these symptoms, don't hesitate to call. It is important to get to the source of the problem before it develops into a serious condition. Please call DeLorenzo Chiropractic Group, 475-5042, for appointment. Our personal concern is your health and we accept only those patients we sincerely feel we can help. Our office is located at 15 Central Street.

P.S. Muscle Weakness may be accompanied by a change in muscle size.

Land trust

instead to give the land to Andover Community Trust, and Ms. Carbone questioned whether one member of the trust who is employed by the town and another who served on the Planning Board used inside information to acquire the land for the trust.

Ms. Stott, who once served as chairwoman of the Planning Board, submitted a letter to selectmen last week detailing the chronology of events leading up to the land gift being made to the trust, her involvement in the transaction, and that of senior town planner, Laura Hill, who is secretary of the trust. Ms. Stott read part of the letter at Monday night's selectmen's meeting. She expressed dismay that she was out of town for two weeks and not able to respond sooner. She expressed disappointment in selectmen and other town officials for not showing more support for Ms. Hill. "I am deeply saddened that the reputations of honorable people whose interest is to serve and benefit the town have been maligned based on false accusations. I think it is important for the Board of Selectmen to affirm that Laura Hill has acted with integrity and consistent with her responsibilities as senior planner, in order to restore her reputation as a valued professional employee of the town," Ms. Stott said.

Selectmen had asked town counsel, Tom Urbelis, to look into the matter.

The crux of Ms. Stott's response was that the trust was first contacted by a lawyer for the Tomzaks about receiving the land, and not the other way around as had been represented.

"In August 1993, Daniel O'Sullivan, a North Andover CPA who has provided advice to ACT, was contacted by Raymond Vivenzio, the Tomzaks' attorney, with questions about the property the Tomzaks had owned for more than 50 years. Mr. O'Sullivan explained the benefit of donating the property to a tax exempt organization and mentioned ACT as an example of a non-profit which might have an interest in the Tomzaks' land. Mr. Vivenzio then contacted me in August and asked if ACT would be interested in a donation of the property at 28 River Road," Ms. Stott wrote.

ACT officials then did their homework, which included gathering information from the treasurer, the assessor and from Ms. Hill, said Ms. Stott.

"In short, we asked the town for information that any responsible citizen would request before making a decision about a questionable piece of land. Town officials, including Laura Hill, provided the information in a thoroughly professional manner as they would for any prospective property owner who asked similar questions," Ms. Stott said.

ACT went back to the Tomzaks in September and told them they would accept the land only after the taxes were paid. The Tomzaks did not accept the offer. ACT subsequently offered to pay half the taxes. Then ACT learned the Tomzaks had offered the land to the town. The ACT board then voted to change its position and assume the tax liability and accept the land.

"The Tomzaks accepted the offer in December and signed the deed to 28 River Road in January," Ms. Stott said.

ACT then moved to get a hearing before the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance to build "one small affordable house" on the undersize lot. [That hearing is set for tonight, Thursday, April 7.]

In the meantime, ACT was told by David Reilly, tax collector, that a letter was needed from Ms. Tomzak to remove the article from warrant.

Ms. Stott wrote a letter for Ms. Tomzaks' signature, and sent it to her for her approval and signature, which Ms. Tomzak gave. Ms. Stott then met with Mr. Reilly and asked him to send her details on the taxes and interest owed on the lot.

"I believe everyone has acted with integrity and that there has been no conflict of interest," Ms. Stott said. "Laura Hill has acted with integrity throughout, providing ACT only with the same information she would and should give to any citizen of the town in the performance or her duties."

She said Ms. Hill was not involved in the land transaction. She also said she did not believe she has any conflict of interest since she resigned from the Planning Board in April 1992.

Ms. Stott said ACT has paid this year's taxes on the property and intends "at this time" to pay the outstanding taxes.

Mr. Urbelis told selectmen Monday night he reviewed all correspondence between all parties involved with an eye for violations of the state's conflict of interest laws as they pertain to municipal employees.

LETTERS

Article 22: Alderbrook Road paving

Editor, Townsman:

In response to last week's article that appeared in the Townsman, and as abutters and owners of the majority of Alderbrook Road slated for a vote at Town Meeting April 11, we wish to correct misconceptions that have been written and also wish to speak publicly in favor in the passage of Article 22. ["Warrant articles reviewed, Alderbrook Road," page 46, March 31.]

From the articles written, there appears to be a dispute between two neighbors. This is incorrect. In fact, there are four abutters to this section of the road. Three of the abutters, the Rauseos, the Parziales and the Eudaileys, have the rights to approximately 75 percent of the road and would like the town to take over their interest in it. We have rights to the road only because the town has never accepted this part of Alderbrook Road. This road has been on a plan approved by the Planning Board since 1947. It is not an accidental cut-through for construction vehicles or made for any other temporary use. The people who live on Countryside Way have an easement written into their deeds that they may use this road.

This road is a direct link for our neighborhood to South School and Ballardvale. It is used daily by many cars, and most importantly, it is used by at least two buses going to South School which are full after picking up children from Countryside Way and Alderbrook Road. The buses have been using this road for at least 10 years. The alternate bus route is 1.3 miles longer and would force the bus onto Route 28 where it would have to cross southbound traffic twice in order to enter from Ballardvale Road. We find it very distressing that Mr. Heitz, an abutter who opposes Article 22, has prevented the bus from using this route by blocking the road with his vehicle.

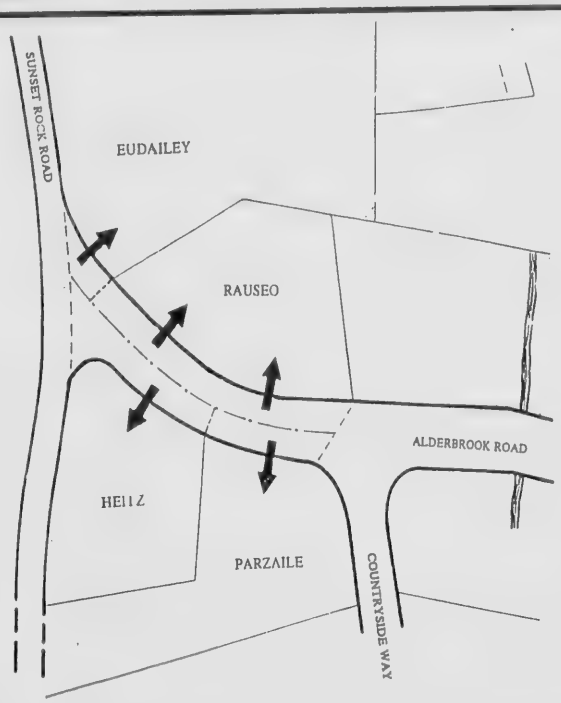

This is a public safety issue. First, this road presently is in a hazardous condition. The town has told us the road cannot be closed to traffic. If it must remain open, it should be made safe. Since this road is on a hill, any temporary repairs are short-lived. Water and sand collect at the top of Countryside Way, making a dangerous stopping condition. We are concerned that there will be an accident here and someone will be injured. Since we have no control over this road, we feel this road belongs with the town. Second, the town recently put a new water main beneath this section of the road, which connected two old mains on Sunset Rock Road and Alderbrook Road. By placing this main here and avoiding the longer route around these roads, the town was able to save thousands of dollars and provide better water service to Alderbrook Road and points south. A third public safety issue involves the response time from a fire truck coming from the Ballardvale station, which would have to travel an additional 1.3 miles in order to respond to a fire in the Countryside Way area. Again, someone could be seriously injured as a result of this delay.

Other letters, pages 33-35

We understand the feelings of the people on Alderbrook Road and Sunset Rock Road who at one time lived on dead-end roads. However, we did not put this road here. It has been open for many years.

We are only trying to act in a responsible manner regarding the safety of the children and the people who use this road daily. This is not a disagreement about dirt and mud but a plea to the town for maintenance of a road used by many citizens.

people can fit into the Dunn Gym. The overflow, should there be any, will go into the Collins Center, which will be wired for two-way audio and video so that residents there can participate in the meeting if using that facility is necessary.

The Collins Center will only be opened if Dunn Gym is filled, according to Town Clerk Randy Hanson, in which case Fred Stott, of Robandy Road, will be the moderator in that facility.

Moderator James Doherty hopes to end Monday and Tuesday Town Meeting nights at 10:30.

The town has 18,218 registered voters. Only registered voters are allowed to vote at town meeting.

Parking

Check-in for Town Meeting will begin at 6 p.m. Because of the anticipated crowds, Ms. Hanson has arranged for remote parking in both the West Middle School parking lot and the Lovely Field parking lot on Red Spring Road. A shuttle bus will run continually between those two lots and Dunn Gym and the Collins Center so that Town Meeting attendees can get to the meeting and back to their cars at any time before, during and after the meeting.

Bus transportation

Bus transportation will also be available from senior housing areas, including Stowe Court, Andover Senior Center, Andover Commons, Washington Park and Frye Circle. Contact the town clerk's office for more information.

Babysitting

Babysitting will be available all three nights of Town Meeting. Babysitting will be in the cafeteria at the High School at a cost of $3 per child each night. Anyone interested in using the sitting service must reserve by Friday, April 8, for all three nights. Contact the Department of Community Services at town offices, 470-3800.

Fred Stott will moderate the overflow crowd in the Collins Center if that becomes necessary.

Why three nights?

Finance Committee Reports for Annual Town Meeting were mailed out to every household in Andover last week. The reports include a list of the warrant articles and brief explanations of each.

The warrant contains 66 articles, including several that are expected to generate lengthy discussions. Town officials are hoping to get through the budget, Article 12, and at least Article 20, the $40.5 million school article, the first night. They would like to go further, but Article 22, a bid by the town to take by eminent domain a private section of Alderbrook Road, could be the next article to generate a lengthy discussion.

Article 42, a proposal to increase fees for false security alarms, may take some time the second night as might Article 45, a proposal to require dog owners to use pooper-scoopers to pick up after their pets. The eight street-acceptance proposals could take some time, too. Town officials do not expect to get to the proposal to ban smoking in restaurants and municipal buildings, Article 52, until the third night. But anyone who has been to town meeting knows that any article can result in lengthy discussion, and articles expected to create a stir often slip by without much fuss. So anything could happen to the schedule and the whole thing could be finished in two nights, or it might have to be continued to the following week if any of the many discussions goes on much longer than expected.

Senior citizens withdraw land request article

The Andover Council on Aging Monday night asked selectmen to withdraw the article on the Town Meeting warrant that was aimed at acquiring a piece of land on South Main Street as the site for a new senior center.

Martin E. Epstein, of 21 Candlewood Circle and a member of the Council on Aging, told selectmen Monday night that misinformation has caused divisiveness in the community and led many residents to believe a senior center is going to cost them millions of dollars. For that reason, Mr. Epstein said seniors would prefer to postpone for six

Residents split on pooper-scooper bylaw

By Don Staruk

Selectmen voted last week to support the proposed pooper-scooper bylaw at Town Meeting, and most of the residents the Townsman found walking their dogs, or just walking, this week agreed with the board.

"I think it's great," said Susan Siegel, of Chestnut Street, who does not own a dog.

"I think it's a great law," said Anita Aronson, of Teaberry Lane, a dog owner. "I'm out in the country, but I think if you're going to have a dog you have to be responsible for it and part of that is cleaning up after it."

Some residents said they oppose the proposal because it seems like a big-city ordinance and Andover is still a small town, but they said they could support it if it were amended to include only the downtown and town parks.

Town Meeting is this Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, April 11-13, at 7 p.m. in Dunn Gymnasium at Andover High School. Article 45, the pooper-scooper article, will probably come up for a vote late the second night or early the third night.

What the bylaw proposes

The article was proposed by selectmen as the result of a complaint from a constituent of Selectman Larry Larsen. The article proposes to add a section entitled "Removal and disposal of canine waste" to the town's general bylaws, and would require each person "who owns, possesses or controls a dog to remove and dispose of any feces left by his or her dog on any sidewalk, street or other public area in the town."

Health license.

Selectmen Larry Larsen and Gerald Silverman voted to recommend approval of the bylaw. Selectmen Charles Wesson, William Downs and James Barenboim voted against supporting it, even though the bylaw was inserted on the warrant by the Board of Health at the selectmen's request. Selectmen asked the Board of Health last fall to compose a tobacco control proposal for Town Meeting. The Board of Health had already been working on smoking regulations for the town for a year and a half before selectmen made their request. The board shifted gears to accommodate the request.

Those board members who voted against it said the bylaw, as proposed, is too restrictive and cited economic hardships for local retailers and restaurants.

Everett Penney, health director, found it "unfathomable" that selectmen would consider the bylaw in terms of economics.

"I'm disappointed that the majority of political leadership exhibited ignorance of the public-health issues associated with the bylaw," Mr. Penney said this week.

The primary intent of the bylaw is to address the danger of smoking to health and the health risks associated with second-hand smoke, Mr. Penney said.

As for the economic impacts of smoking itself, Mr. Penney said studies have shown that smoking costs the state of Massachusetts $4 million a day in lost medical costs and premature death and disability costs. To make the argument that the bylaw has adverse economic impacts because of a few hundred or a few thousand dollars, versus millions of dollars a day, doesn't work, Mr. Penney said.

He saw the vote as a "cursory political response to vested interest groups" in town, particularly a group of town employees who oppose the ban in municipal buildings, and to the merchants.

"I can't fathom that they would actually believe what they said, that it should not pass because of economic costs," Mr. Penney said of selectmen.

He said the biggest argument by merchants is that it will be unfair for them to have to compete with restaurants across town lines that do not have the ban. Mr. Penney said the only reason a smoking ban for restaurants across the state hasn't passed is that the tobacco lobby has control of a majority in the state Legislature.

"Defeat of the bylaw would be just what the tobacco lobby is looking for," Mr. Penney said.

But Mr. Penney said he is confident residents will approve the bylaw.

"I think the people of the town will approve the bylaw overwhelmingly."

People understand the dangers of smoking and are less subject to influence by vested groups than politicians are, Mr. Penney said.

APR 7 1994

Residents split on pooper-scooper bylaw, Article 45

It also covers private property not owned by said dog owner, possessor or controller.

"No person who owns, possesses or controls such dog shall appear with such dog on any sidewalk, street, park or other public area without the means of removal of any feces left by such dog," the article reads in part. Again, this also applies to private property.

"The means of removal shall be any tool, implement or other device carried for the purpose of picking up and containing such feces, unexposed to said person or the public. Disposal shall be accomplished by transporting such feces to a place suitable and regularly reserved for the disposal of canine feces, or as otherwise designated as appropriate by the Board of Health."

Handicapped persons and persons accompanied by a guide dog are exempt from the bylaw. Police and the animal control officer will enforce the law, violation of which will be a non-criminal offense punishable by a fine of $15 for a first offense, $25 for a second offense and $50 for third or subsequent offense.

Poop is annoying

Ms. Siegel was asked about the bylaw as she walked on Chestnut Street last week with her two young children, Daniel and Alison.

"I think stepping in poop is annoying," and dog owners should "be considerate of people who don't want to walk in it," she said.

Ms. Siegel is not a dog owner, but she and her husband, Jerry Pouliot, plan to get a dog. But Ms. Siegel was not sure about the punishment proposed for violators of the bylaw.

"I don't know if I think you should have to be fined. I just think it would be a good idea to make it be something people are conscious of."

Philip Zaeder, an English teacher and Protestant chaplain at Cochran Chapel at Phillips Academy, supports the bylaw proposal.

"I think it's a wonderful thing."

Rev. Zaeder said his English sheepdog, Chico, is a familiar sight around the chapel and the campus. The reverend carries "a kind of duffel bag" with many pockets and is already in the habit of cleaning up after Chico if the dog relieves himself in an inappropriate area.

"I carry all kinds of things with me in a bag so it's fine. I actually do practice it."

Rev. Zaeder said that out in the woods, it is not a problem. But when people walk their dogs on places like the lawns at PA, and let the animals relieve themselves there, that is inappropriate and is a problem, he said.

Ms. Aronson said she also cleans up after her 4-year-old poodle, Mandy, when she takes the dog for walks.

"I always have a couple of plastic bags in my pocket," she said.

She lives in a wooded area and usually walks the dog where she doesn't have to clean up after it.

She said one of the reasons the bylaw may be controversial is that there are many dog owners who don't leash their pets and would find it that much harder to clean up after them.

"I just think it's a must if you're going to have a pet," Mr. Aronson said. " I think it's something people should decide on before you get a dog. If they don't want to clean and they don't want the responsibility, then they shouldn't have a dog."

Janos Vajda, of 26 Clark Road and owner of Tushi, a golden retriever/shepherd mix, only half supports the bylaw proposal.

"I feel very strongly for a clean town and it is important to keep your yard and street clean, but I have a feeling that this law would be unfair," Mr. Vajda said.

Many bigger polluters go unpunished and it would be unfair to focus a law on just dog owners, he said. He finds glass and plastic bottles and plastic wrappers in his yard and nobody is forced to pick those up. Occasionally he finds "dog droppings," but those are gone with the first rain, he said. The papers and bottles remain.

The pooper-scooper law would force dog owners to carry a means of collecting the dog droppings with them everywhere they go. But people are not required to carry small trash barrels around their neck for the trash they throw in the street, he said.

If you are going to be penalized for walking around without a pooper-scooper, then people should walk around with a trash barrel around their neck, he said.

"Then the dog pooper-scooper law would be perfectly in balance," Mr. Vajda said. "How many fines were levied in Andover last year against littering?"

Mr. Vajda said he is not against the bylaw proposal but, like the littering laws, he doubts it will be enforced if passed.

"I would abide by the law. I won't complain, I think tidiness and cleanliness is important," he said.

Mr. Vajda was one of those who said the same rules should not be applied in wooded areas as are needed downtown.

Julie Traverse, of Marland Street and a dog owner, said she is moving out of town next week so the bylaw won't affect her. She would otherwise be "on the fence."

"As a dog owner, it's not something I'd want to do," she said.

But she can also understand how people who do not have dogs would support the article.

Ms. Traverse's neighbor, Cynthia Givens, also of Marland Street and not a dog owner, said it is a problem in the neighborhood.

"I absolutely support it," Ms. Givens said. "It's very difficult when you have little children and you find doggy poops in your yard from other people walking their dog. It's not a pleasant experience."

Ms. Givens said she has children ranging in age from 2 to 15 years. The 2-, 5- and 10-year-olds all play in the yard. While the 5-year-old is looking out for it all the time, the 2-year-old is not, she said.

It is not a problem with many people who walk their dogs in the woods, but there are others who allow their dogs off the leash and whose dogs leave their "little gifts" everywhere, Ms. Givens said.

"I'd very much support it," she said.

"No matter what, if the law goes into effect, we're all going to enjoy walking around here more," Ms. Aronson said.

Collecting feces

Everett Penney, health director, said he has viewed information on a container that would both distribute plastic gloves, and serve as a container for disposal. The metal container is about 2-feet wide and 3-feet high, painted white with instructions written on it in green. A dog owner would put in a quarter, or another set amount, then stick his or her hand into the top part of the machine and right into a disposable plastic glove. The person then picks up the feces and deposits the mess into the bottom part of the container by putting his or her hand in and taking the glove off, according to Mr. Penney.

These units could be placed in crucial areas, such as in The Park or downtown.

Mr. Penney did not know the cost of the units.

The waste would then be collected with the regular town trash and incinerated. Mr. Penney said he hasn't addressed whether placement of dog feces in regular town trash barrels should be allowed. Leaving waste in trash containers could result in odor and other potential health hazards when combined with heat and humidity, he said.

Wayne Nader, the town's animal control officer, said this week he had no comment on the bylaw proposal, its enforcement or whether he supports it. Mr. Nader said he had nothing to do with formulating the proposal and that he would vote on it at Town Meeting just like everyone else.

Youth Town Meeting is Tuesday

By Alix Driscoll

Two proposals for a teen center, a smoking bylaw and a town bowling alley are three of the articles the first-ever Youth Town Meeting will consider Tuesday, April 12, 4 p.m, at West Middle School auditorium. All Andover students in grades 4-12 are eligible to attend and participate. Taking the roles of town officials are 22 Andover High School and middle- school students, with Will Hall, Youth Town Meeting moderator, conducting the meeting.

The school councils have prepared a Youth Town Meeting Warrant with 10 articles for consideration. Two articles, the $40.5 million school building program and the smoking bylaw, are similar to proposals on the regular Town Meeting warrant. Students will act upon proposals to expand the town's recycling program in the schools, allow the elementary students to design their own lunch menus and extend the in-town shuttle bus circuit to serve the West Middle School area.

There are two proposals for acquiring a teen center. The High School and middle student councils are asking the town to purchase and renovate the old mill building on Stevens Street for a teen center. The elementary school student councils are proposing renovating the old bowling alley in town as a teen center. West Middle School Student Council would prefer to re-do that site as a town-owned bowling alley.

According to Todd Buonapane, chairman of the student Board of Selectmen, the group has met and will make recommendations on Tuesday afternoon. Richard Neal, assistant superintendent of schools who is overseeing the meeting, says the Youth Town Meeting is an opportunity to let the community know what young people think about important issues.

He said Ms. Hill contacted her own private attorney for advice in the matter and sought an opinion from the state Ethics Commission on her activities with three non-profit organizations, including ACT. The Ethics Commission's six-page report found that nothing Ms. Hill had done would be considered a conflict of interest, and that there is nothing to prohibit her activities as an unpaid secretary of ACT. It did include certain restrictions, such as she could not comment on the variance request and she cannot be ACT's agent in filing grant applications.

"I concur with the opinion of the Ethics Commission in this matter," Mr. Urbelis told selectmen.

Town Manager Buzz Stapczynski, apologized to Ms. Hill. "I'd like to just apologize to you for what you've been through this past week," Mr. Stapczynski said. His apology was echoed by Gerald Silverman, chairman of the Board of Selectmen.

EDITORIALS

See you at Town Meeting

Town officials are expecting so many residents to attend the Monday-Wednesday Town Meeting next week that they have set up two sites and two moderators – the AHS gym and Collins Center, and James Doherty and Fred Stott. It's important enough that this weekly newspaper will publish twice next week – a first for the Townsman.

And it's no wonder. Here is a list of some of the juicier warrant articles: $40.5 million for school projects (Article 20), $38,000 (an amended amount) for special-education students who have been expelled but are required by law to be educated (Article 24), a zoning bylaw change concerning political signs (26), a proposal to use free cash to reduce the FY '95 tax rate (30), a jogging bylaw (40), a pooper-scooper bylaw (45), and a smoking bylaw (52).

There are more, for a total of 66. Article 67, a proposal to buy land on South Main Street for a senior center, will be withdrawn.

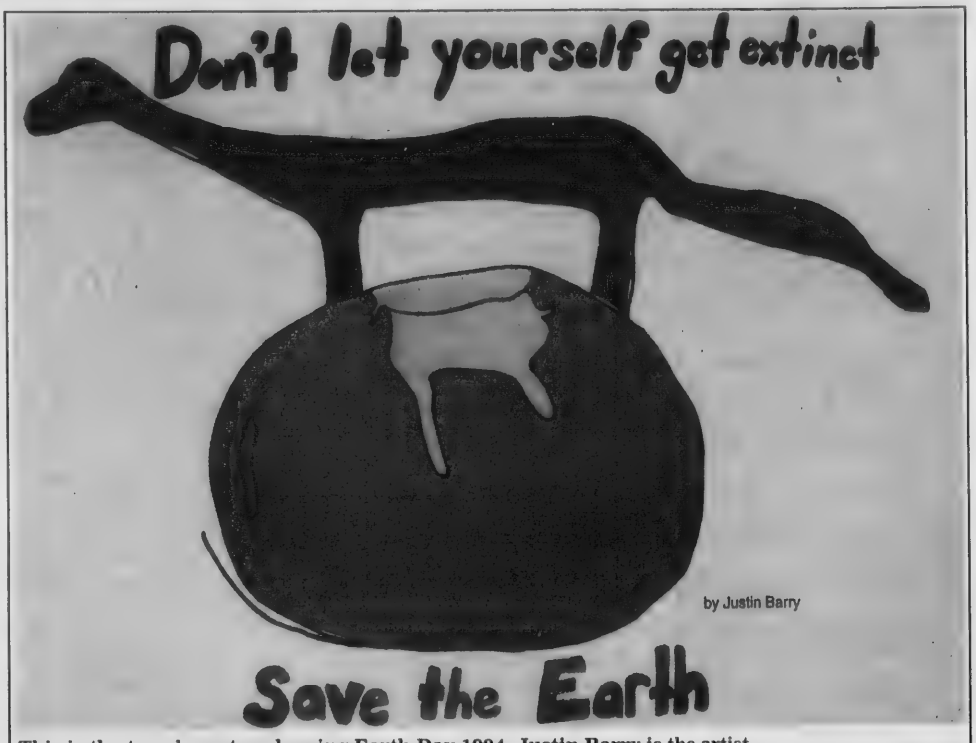

We advise those who are counting on Article 20 being accomplished Monday night not to. Get a babysitter for Tuesday, too, just in case.

Although the people with whom we have talked about Article 45 generally favor it, we know of some – Sophie, Brandy and Morgan to be specific – who think a pooper-scooper bylaw is appropriate for large cities, not Andover. They think it may be appropriate for the downtown area only, and even suggest it be amended on the floor of Town Meeting.

The smoking bylaw is a difficult one. We want people not to smoke, but we also believe if a restaurant wishes to have a smoking section, then fine, we won't frequent it. Perhaps that bylaw could be amended too, to prohibit smoking in municipal buildings. We have to go to municipal buildings; we don't have to eat in a restaurant that allows smoking. We favor the part of the bylaw change designed to make it difficult for minors to buy cigarettes.

And our suggestion for the $40.5 million school building article is for every voter to weigh the effect of the cost on each taxpayer against the effect of upgraded facilities on the morale of residents, the gains for students, and for the reputation of the town as a whole. Each person will have to decide for him- or herself.

This is the most important town meeting Andover has had in years.

This is the town's poster plugging Earth Day 1994. Justin Barry is the artist.

Many hands make light the (Earth) work

By Perry Colmore

The Earth Week people (and that should be all of us) are worried Andover residents aren't that involved in the upcoming town-wide trash and litter clean up. The event will be held April 24 through May 1, and it is an important event.

A woman who is involved with Earth Week recently called, worrying that people aren't that involved in the event. "When just 15 percent of the people vote" in the March 28 Town Election, "we can't expect to get many more involved in Earth Week."

Indeed.

I was surprised that only 15 percent of the people voted in the Town Election. Afterall, we were electing two people to the School Committee, and the schools currently are involved in a potential $40.5 million building project to improve our schools. That affects the entire population – residents with school-age children, people who own houses (their property values), and so on.

So when just 15 percent showed up, I was surprised.

We hope more than that attend at least part of Earth Week to help clean up Andover. A giant map of the town is on display at Memorial Hall Library showing all the town's precincts.

If you want to volunteer to help clean up, here is a list of the precinct coordinators:

Precinct 1, Cindy Rayner, 474-4258; Precinct 2, Jean Sand, 475-3875; Precinct 3, Dana Lanio, 475-6268; Precinct 4, Al Retelle, 475-4412, Precinct 5, Fred Snell, 686-3647; Precinct 6, Terry Reid, 475-4744; Precinct 7, Regina Stone, 475-8003; and Precinct 8, Carole Chanler, 470-1550.

Ollie Jones, 470-0365, will direct the Shawsheen River cleanup.

People who wish to volunteer a group's services (such as a Scout troop or club) should call the Department of Community Services, at 470-3800, Ext. 280.

Objects to Willey's remarks

Editor, Townsman:

I would like to congratulate the three panel members on their question-and-answer session to School Committee candidates. ["Student panel questions School Committee candidates," page 1, March 24.] I applaud their insightfulness and ability to express the needs and concerns of the student population at Andover High School.

However, Lloyd Willey's statements regarding inter-racial tension and gay bashing was indeed offensive to many minority tax-paying residents of Andover. As a group, we are neither monolithic in our cultural beliefs, religious orientation, political views, pedagogical directions nor our approach to problem-solving.

We are, however, of one strong voice in our desire to obtain not only a quality education for our children, but also an harmonious environment for our children to live and grow. We, like all Andover citizens, deplore the umbrage of violence of any kinds.

Willey's remarks

It is important that the educational milieu for all children provide, through its teaching for every ethnic group, a curriculum that arouses pride in a legitimate past, enhance self respect and provide heroes and leaders with whom they can identify.

In Mr. Willey's opinion, 240 blacks in the system does not pose a problem nor merit curriculum change. What will happen if that number increases to a whopping 250 or 260? Must the minority population of Andover grow by leaps and bounds before we are recognized as legitimate contributors to the nation in which we must all live?

I am ill at ease with the notion of teaching our young people tolerance of others. Tolerance is an antidote to centuries of racist indoctrination. To tolerate is to bear, to endure, which requires mindless effort. Does tolerance teach respect, understanding and support? Let alone common decency?

As Mr. Willey assumes his new role on the School Committee, I hope that he becomes mindful that it is preponderant to understand the deracinate circumstances of the past of all of the children that he will serve. This knowledge is important in order to move intelligently and autonomously into the future.

Remarks upset her, too

Editor, Townsman:

I was very upset about Mr. Willey's comment to the Andover High School students panel prior to his election to serve on the School Committee. In the article of March 24, titled "Student panel questions School Committee candidates," Mr. Willey stated that Andover does not need to be concerned about gangs or racially-motivated fights because of Andover's small black population.

There are a number of underlying racist assumptions in his comment. Mr. Willey's statement reflects a belief that black people have a monopoly on gangs; that gangs only exist in communities with sizable black populations; that black people are responsible for racially-motivated fights. Taken in any context, his comments reflect a racist view and I am deeply offended.

I have lived in Andover for over a decade and generally have had positive experiences living in the town. Never before had I seen or experienced anything in Andover which was so blatantly racist. I was truly shocked and appalled that Mr. Willey would make that sort of statement especially to children. Now that Mr. Willey has been elected to serve on the school board, I can only hope that his comments will not be reflective of the way he serves the children of Andover.

A most important issue

Editor, Townsman:

At Town Meeting, to be held April 11, residents will be asked to consider perhaps the most important community issue that our town will face in the near future. Andover has long been proud of its school system. But the school buildings have reached a critical state. If we do not act, these buildings will be unable to contain our student population. Right now, we can turn this situation around by spending $18 million to acquire $40.5 million of facilities and upgrades. Our opportunity to apply for state reimbursement of 60 percent of our costs could end on June 1.

If you are unfamiliar with the schools predicament, you need only visit any elementary school. At South Elementary, teachers instruct in hallways and closets. Students leave class to search for buckets to place on their desks when it rains. An outdated heating system wastes fuel dollars and overheats classrooms where windows don't open to provide relief. At Sanborn Elementary, small group instruction occurs on the floor and in corridors. Children participate in gym class at the same time other children have music class on the stage in the same room. Again, windows leak heat and ceilings just leak. At all schools, children are crammed into classrooms too small to contain their numbers. By adding 141 seats to South and fully utilizing the Shawsheen School, we can address the overcrowding at Bancroft and West Elementary schools.

If you tour Andover High School, you will see similar problems. Laboratories for teaching contemporary science and technology are outdated or nonexistent, forcing our students to enter college without important skills. The electrical heating system is extremely inefficient. Lighting and acoustic problems diminish the students' ability to learn. Combined with overcrowding, these factors dramatically reduce the effectiveness of the academic program.

We have an opportunity to greatly improve these problems at a reduced price. The School Building Committee and school officials have put great effort into defining the most fiscally responsible plan possible to address the school system's current and near-future problems. This plan calls for spending $18 million of Andover's money to purchase $40.5 million of new additions, renovations and upgrades. We must spend $12 million to make only essential repairs and bring buildings up to state and federally mandated codes. Repairs done alone are not eligible for state assistance. How can we lose this limited opportunity that ends June 1 to use state money to correct so much more?

Our school population is rapidly increasing well beyond the current buildings capacities. Elementary classrooms cannot fit more desks. The High School is rapidly approaching a similar condition. The recommended capacity for the High School is 1,250 students. Enrollment will dramatically increase each year with expected capacity to reach 1,700 students in the year 2001. There are currently 1,808 students in grades 2, 3, 4 and 5. These students will be in Andover High School in 2001, although approximately 40 from each grade will go to private schools. Without added space and improved facilities, Andover High School could find its accreditation in jeopardy.

These factors all damage the image of this town and directly affect property values. On the other hand, the proposed building plan includes many facilities that will be open to the community and benefit the entire town. We urge you to vote for the School Building Plan at Town Meeting and at the ballot box.

Maintain buildings: pass Article 20

Editor, Townsman:

As a volunteer serving the School Building Committee as a member of the Building Oversight Committee, I would like to address the issue of building maintenance.

In the early years of Prop. 2 1/2, town officials put off routine maintenance items as a temporary cost-saving measure, fully intending to make the repairs at a later date. However, due to the ever-tightening budget dollars, some of these items were shelved completely. As a result, building machinery that should have lasted 20 years must now be replaced after only 10 to 15 years: this is not cost effective for the taxpayer.

Approximately 10 months ago, the Andover school board and selectmen chose to create a trial program to alleviate these problems. The Building Oversight Committee developed a program, known as preventive maintenance, that has its origins in the business community. The town capitalized this program with a $40,000 budget to try it on the town library and West Elementary School. The test run is over within four months. At this time, the two buildings under trial should begin to show less costs for mechanical repairs and more efficient use of maintenance personnel.

Personally, I feel that this program will be cost effective with regard to the taxpayers' pocketbook. As a professional in the construction industry for the past 23 years and an Andover taxpayer for the past six years, I consider it my civic responsibility to inform my fellow taxpayers that investing now in the school buildings has a direct payback to the community. If we pass the school building program and make the major repairs that have resulted from delaying regular maintenance, the preventive maintenance program should keep the buildings in good shape by anticipating and handling maintenance needs in a timely and cost-effective manner. This will keep overall operating costs lower because the town's Municipal Maintenance Department will be able to use long-term budgeting information regarding maintenance expenses. If you relate what you know about your home or automobile to the school buildings, you will very quickly recall that doing routine maintenance in a timely fashion costs much less than letting these items go; such neglect results in huge costs.

I would like to remind taxpayers that our school system is one of the primary assets that has made Andover the quality town it is today. If we want to teach our children to do things cost effectively, then there is no better place to start than in the schools themselves. After all, if a good investment is made today, it should be around in 100 years.

AHS would have a new science wing, too

Editor, Townsman:

As much as I am in agreement with last week's letter championing the virtues of an additional gymnasium for Andover High School, I think it is important to also talk about the academic programs that will be possible as a result of the new addition to the High School.

Possibly more important than anything raised thus far is the construction of a new two-story science wing. I have not seen or read all of the details, but I do know that the addition of eight new science labs and seven, properly-sized classrooms is precisely the type of new resource our students need.

The science program at Andover High offers an excellent classical presentation of the information covered in most standard courses, biology, chemistry, physics, etc. As many of our graduates who have gone onto college suggest, what we lack is more lab work and hands-on bench training, coupled with up-to-date technology to advance laboratory science skills. AHS without these modern requirements will not offer our students what they rightly deserve and need for the future.

Let's not forget just how important

Favors Article 20, also

Editor, Townsman:

Please join me in voting "yes" to the proposed school building program described in Article 20 of the Town Meeting warrant.

The school building program addresses urgent present needs and anticipated future needs. The changes proposed range from mandatory (examples: construction to meet current building codes and 1992 ADA handicapped accessibility codes), to necessary (examples: building additional classrooms to relieve overcrowding, library/media centers and music/arts rooms that actually perform that function instead of serving as the receptacle for student spillover from overcrowded classrooms), to highly desirable (examples: a new science wing with classrooms and labs and a new cost-effective heating system at the High School, ballfields for both the schools and the community.

Implementation of the school building program would present us with a unique opportunity. By investing $18 million in the physical plants and technologies of our schools, we will be guaranteed another $22.5 million in aid from the commonwealth. This 60-percent reimbursement rate alone represents a terrific opportunity.

If we don't get our request for reimbursement in by June 1, however, all bets are off as to how much of these school expenses we will have to pay and how much the commonwealth will pay. This means, of course, that we need to pass Article 20 now.

If this school building program is defeated, we in Andover will still be faced with absolutely necessary repairs and code updates which alone will total about $12 million. And none of this would be reimbursed by the commonwealth. Many of these repairs are critical, having been deferred since 1989.

The average estimated cost to each household in Andover of the debt service required by Article 20 will start at about $124/year in FY 1995. Is not the assurance that our children will have the physical facilities necessary to achieve their goals and pursue their dreams well into the foreseeable future well worth our every effort? And is not the cost of this assurance well worth $2.50 per week per Andover household (about $125/year)?

Some people in town feel that $125/year places an unfair burden upon them.

And yet, no generation of young parents can afford, in today's world or any real world, to educate their children alone. Our American system of public education, in its sharing of cost by taxpayers of all ages, has from its beginnings been a de facto acknowledgement of this fact. To paraphrase the old proverb, it does take an entire village to educate a child.

Favor 'pooper-scooper' bylaw on the warrant

Editor, Townsman:

Referring to the letter to the editor in the March 31 Townsman concerning the "pooper-scooper" bylaw where it was stated "that the voters of this town are seemingly more concerned with dog poop than in the upbringing of our children," we would like to reply that we definitely support youth services.

However, as a separate and completely unrelated health and sanitation issue, we also support the "pooper-scooper" bylaw and ask your readers to do the same.

Church organist: A powerful tale of courage

Editor, Townsman:

Ms. Theda J. Leonard's letter of March 31 questioned the news worthiness of an article in the March 21 Townsman concerning an employment discrimination suit by Renea Waligora against the Rev. James Diamond of Christ Church. I suggest that the news worthiness of the event lies in the powerful tale courage and love of life manifested by one woman who appears to have decided that she will no longer live the life of a victim.

Child abuse survivors are special people. They have found a way to grow and learn as other children do, but they do so despite an environment fraught with deception, betrayal, pain and shame. Throughout their formative years the enduring lesson they are taught is that they are worthless objects, subjugated to the will of those who are older, stronger and smarter. Children in abusive families often have no one to protect them. They are too young to protect themselves, and too ashamed to admit to others what they may have been forced to do. Ms. Leonard asks, "Is this something that we need to know?"

I do not know Renea Waligora, and I can make no claim as to the merits of her particular case. Similarly, I am not a member of Christ Church and so, therefore, can not add my opinion as to whether or not Rev. Diamond was justified in his actions. I can say, however, as a member of the Andover community, that my answer to Ms. Leonard is a resounding yes. I, for one, do not want to see victims of abuse shoved back into their dark nightmares with the force of community retribution against those who have the courage to reach for a better life. I do not want to be a part of that kind of "common sense of propriety" that continues to permit child abuse to occur today by publicly shaming those who speak up about it.

I hope that, whatever the outcome of the employment discrimination case, one result may be that our community will become enlightened as to the causes and devastatingly long-lasting results of child abuse, and that we all may work together to support and help those who have survived it.

Youth Council kids should be proud

Editor, Townsman:

Can you imagine combining the excitement of opening day at Fenway Park, the enthusiasm of the cast of a Broadway show and the energy of a roomful of children on Christmas morning? These feelings of energy, excitement and enthusiasm were alive last Friday evening, April 1, at Andover's Old Town Hall. That was the site of Comedy Night which was sponsored by the Andover Youth Council.

In less than a month's period of time, this group planned, organized and coordinated an evening of entertainment that featured amateur and professional comedians, as well as local high school musicians who sang and performed into the hearts of their peers.

The Youth Council used their creativity to design Comedy Night and their tireless energy to carry it out. Their tasks included contracting with the town to secure the facility, lining up professional and amateur entertainment, developing an action register, scheduling the use of lighting and sound equipment, soliciting local merchant sponsorships, designing T-shirts and programs, organizing refreshments, as well as advertising the event and selling tickets. In fact, these kids did such a tremendous advertising job that the event was sold out half an hour before the doors opened.

The students on the Youth Council deserve a lot of credit and should be very proud of themselves. They developed an idea and then gave it life. They provided an alcohol- and drug-free, action-packed and fun-filled evening of entertainment for their peers. They created a challenge for themselves and then saw it through to its successful completion. This Youth Council has the ability, creativity, enthusiasm and sense of empowerment to provide a positive impact to our community and all of its members, from the youngest to the eldest.

To the high school students who showcased their talents at Comedy Night, your performances were unbelievable. Your impressive musical and comical skills provided the foundation for a very entertaining and enjoyable evening for all those in attendance.

To all of the local merchants who provided contributions, the adults who volunteered as chaperons and those who used their baking skills to provide refreshments, your support was appreciated tremendously.

To the high-schoolers who attended Comedy Night, you should be very proud of yourselves. You presented yourselves as young adults and your energy, excitement and enthusiasm was integral to the success of the evening. Thank you.

If the old adage is correct that success breeds success, then many more activities of this caliber will be forthcoming. Hopefully, the Youth Council's band wagon will be overflowing with both youth and adult members of our community willing to provide a helping hand.

Let's support our capable teen-agers

Editor, Townsman:

Thursday night I attended a Parent to Parent forum at which a group of articulate, enthusiastic students described their new Youth Services Council. They are clearly and understandably enthralled with Bill Fahey who has been hired to work directly with youth in the community in this innovative effort.

One of the student's statements that I found most striking was that youth want to be a part of the community and be seen as contributing members. Having hired, worked and sat on committees with teens in Andover for over 15 years, I have seen how truly capable and willing they can be when given the opportunity. They need to be valued and utilized as potential contributors, not just given activities to participate in and hope that they will be kept busy enough to stay out of trouble.

Teen centers came and went in the '60s and long-time residents have varied recollections of their purpose and success. In the '70s, five sites owned by the town that might have been used as a base for youth were either sold or demolished for various reasons. In the '80s I sat on more committees discussing teen centers than I care to remember.

Bill and his group are basically looking for office space, a home where youth can meet to develop their own ideas for projects and events and where he might provide confidential supportive services to individuals or small groups. I think the concept is one that makes sense and should be supported.

While it is distressing to hear that they have been refused some downtown locations because merchants are fearful of the behaviors that will occur if teens start hanging out nearby, there is a reality base to this concern that we as Andover parents should not ignore. Hanging out downtown seems to be a rite of passage into middle school but the favored activity should not be, "Let's see what we can steal."

Letter about Alderbrook Road paving: page 29

Middle- and high-school students need to find and understand their place in the world and should start by having a place in this community, literally and figuratively. The youth involved in this effort should be applauded and given the opportunity to succeed.

Small-mindedness in a democracy

Editor, Townsman:

Recently, a friend of mine posted, with permission, a notice at a Main Street business establishment. To her dismay, it had been removed within a day by an unknown person. The notice was about an upcoming free lecture at the Memorial Hall Library featuring well-known newspaper columnist and author Don Feder. His topic is "Abortion and the Assault on Western Civilization."

I wonder what problem the person had that compelled him or her to remove this sign? Was it that he or she didn't want people to hear the truth about the effects of abortion? Was it that the speaker is Jewish? Whatever the reason, the person was clearly wrong and apparently has little respect for person, property or our American tradition of free expression and exchange of ideas.

I hope that this was an isolated incident and not something indicative of a prevalent intolerant mentality.

AHS baseball team is feared and revered in rival towns

By Rick Harrison

The figures are staggering.

Four consecutive Merrimack Valley Conference Large School championships, back-to-back State Division 1 titles in 1991 and 1992, a 57-7 record in the last 64 league games, and an 89-9 overall mark in 98 games including tournaments during the past four years.

Andover High baseball is both feared and revered in rival cities and towns throughout the commonwealth.

And yet, every spring is a new one and the Golden Warriors must prove themselves all over again in 1994.

Despite capturing the MVC crown by four games with a 14-1 league record last year, and winning 20 games for the fourth straight season, Andover was abruptly dismissed with an early second-round exit from the Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Tournament.

Coach Ken Maglio's squad swept to the championship of the season-opening Ted Boudreau Memorial Tournament, kept rolling to a 16-0 record before the streak was snapped in a 9-7 loss to Central Catholic, and then rebounded to capture the Lawrence Invitational Tournament with three convincing victories.

AHS struggled past Newton North 6-5 in 10 innings to open the EMass. Tournament, and bowed out with a loss to Shawn Bates and Medford in the second round.

"I think the kids found out last year they can't rest on past laurels," said second-year varsity Coach Maglio, who previously directed the freshman team for 22 seasons. "The returning players know what it takes to go the distance, and they're working extra hard to (atone for) last year."

Few teams have to make excuses for a 20-2 season, but Andover baseball and perfection have become synonymous.

"The senior players are great leaders," said Coach Maglio. "They're making it easier with their outstanding attitude and work ethic. Everyone is focused."

Grads and veterans

Andover graduated nine seniors from the 1993 squad, including Division 1 Player-of-the-Year and Mizuno All-American pitcher-outfielder Justin Hesenius who is off to a superb start on the mound at Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla.

All nine alumni are continuing their education at college and most are still playing baseball.

Also gone are middle infielder Josh Nelken (University of New Hampshire), catcher Ben Russell who is the starting third baseman for the Colby College varsity, pitcher-outfielder Scott Henry (Fordham), pitcher Scott Eggert (Assumption), Matt Chapin (Bates), third baseman Dave Gardner (St. Michael's), first baseman Steve Marchlik (Trinity) and outfielder Andy Brown (Northwestern).

Coach Maglio and assistants Dan Grams (JV), Kevin Rourke, Greg Sacco and Claude Beaudet (freshmen) greeted 44 candidates at the opening practice.

Although three top pitchers and four starting field players graduated, five starters and and ace hurler from the '93 squad form the current nucleus.

Veteran frontliners are senior third baseman and Co-Captain Jeff Lembo, senior shortstop and Co-Captain Matt Wolcott, senior left fielder Bob Daley, senior first baseman and possible pitcher Toby Guzowski, and senior catcher Paul Allard.

Hoping to perpetuate the pitching legacy established by Chris Eggert, Dave Blank, Jim Hanning and Justin Hesenius is senior righthander Todd Murray.

Lembo is the top returning hitter, having batted .421 last spring, while Wolcott hit .355 and Guzowski flirted with the .300 mark during a streaky season at the plate.

Murray was 2-1 on the mound with one save.

Allard, a defensive specialist and savvy player, and hard-nosed hustler Guzowski are three-year varsity mainstays.

Daley is one of the league's top outfielders and, according to Coach Maglio, has the strongest arm on the team.

Wolcott, Murray healthy

Athletic thoroughbreds Wolcott and Murray are both bouncing back from injuries.

"Matt is 100 percent healthy and that's great news for us," said Maglio. "He's lost some weight, getting down to 172 pounds, and he looks quick and strong.

"Todd had some arm problems last season but he's also healthy. If he returns to the form he showed against Lowell (3-0 win) late last season there won't be a better pitcher in the league. Todd's a flamethrower (low 80s) and his fastball moves. He also has a great changeup, a good curve, and when his location is good Todd can be untouchable."

Wolcott doubles as an outstanding pitcher who can be used as a spot starter or short reliever. He became the ace closer last year, saving several games as the Golden Warriors won three in extra innings and eight by one or two run margins.

Returning players who lettered last season are senior second baseman Chris Sintros, junior shortstop-second baseman Tom Tanin, junior center fielder Mike Maguire, versatile junior outfielder-first baseman-pitcher Tom Gardner, and 6'5" junior pitcher-first baseman Cris Brown.

Tanin will step in at short whenever Wolcott takes the mound, and the Gardner, Brown, Guzowski trio gives Andover considerable pitching talent from the left side.

Completing the squad are three young players who could make an impact, huge sophomore first baseman-pitcher George Secchiaroli, sophomore third baseman-pitcher Chris Kearn and freshman shortstop-second baseman Brian Tisbert.

Coach Maglio is impressed with the pitching abilities of Secchiaroli and Kearn, while Tisbert is also no stranger to the mound.

"Defensively we should be very strong, the hitting has looked good in early practices and scrimmages, and we have excellent team speed with Lembo, Wolcott, Maguire and Allard.

Opener with PA

The Golden Warriors had several pre-season scrimmages scheduled this week, including Arlington Catholic home and away, Peabody, North Andover and Phillips Academy.

The regular season opener is next Monday, April 11, against non-league intra-town rival Phillips Academy.

This game marks the renewal of a once-annual rivalry between the schools that was discontinued for a variety of reasons more than a decade ago.

"Officials from both schools have been working on this for a few years," said Coach Maglio. "It's a natural rivalry and we're glad it's back. We originally wanted to include Phillips in the Boudreau Tournament, but we were unable to hold the tourney this spring.

There will be two other non-league games,

Basketball standout Kirk Stockwood honored again

The honors continue to pile up for Andover High senior basketball standout Kirk Stockwood.

The 1993-'94 Merrimack Valley League first-team All-Conference selection was named winner of the prestigious annual Edward Middleton Sportsmanship Award.

The award, presented by the northeast chapter of the international association of approved basketball officials, goes to the area high school player best combines the charcteristics of fair play and exceptional talent.

Stockwood, who finished with more than 700 career points and helped lead Andover to consecutive Merrimack Valley Conference Large School Division championships, was also named to both The Boston Globe and Boston Herald All-Scholastic teams and was chosen Player-of-the-Year by the Lawrence Eagle Tribune.

The 6'1" guard, who will play for the North team in the annual Top-80 Classic at Stonehill College, also took another step toward the state free throw shooting championship.

Stockwood won the Merrimack Valley Conference foul shooting title at the All-Star Game several weeks ago, hitting 55-of-60 shots including 20-of-20 in overtime.

The sharpshooter then beat five other league champions in the district competition at the North Andover High field house, converting 28-of-30 charities.

He is next scheduled to participate in the regional shootoff, with the top four advancing to the State finals to be held during halftime of a Celtics game at Boston Garden later this month.

Andover High junior forward Eric Danis was named a second team All-Scholastic.

Seven-year-old skier wins silver medal

Scott Silverstein, 7, won a silver medal in the NASTAR ski race at Mad River Glen ski area in Vermont on Sunday, March 20. Scott, his 4-year-old brother, Brett, and parents, Leslie and David Silverstein of Burton Farm Drive, regularly ski at Mad River Glen. They have a vacation home in nearby Warren, Vt.

Scott is a second-grader at Shawsheen School. Skiing is his favorite sport. When not on the slopes, he designs ski areas of the future.

Boys volleyball team begins season by sweeping Brockton

By Rick Harrison

The Andover High boys' volleyball team launched its 1994 season with an impressive 2-0 sweep of Brockton High this week.

The defending North Alliance champs defeated the non-league Boxers by game scores of 15-10 and 15-9.

"We were flat for the whole match," said Coach George Sullivan. "But I think the long ride to Brockton, the fact we had to contend with a locked gym door, and a lack of enthusiasm on the Brockton side had something to do with it."

The Golden Warrior netmen jumped out to a 10-2 first game lead, then let the Boxers climb back in contention before shutting off the host team.

Brockton never led in the second game, either, which was slowed by an injury to a Brockton player midway through.

Coach Sullivan lauded the efforts of senior Captain J.P. Guerard, senior Captain Glenn Wilson, senior Doug Miller and junior setter Tim Foley.

Guerard was a perfect 10-for-10 serving, including three aces, and he added 12 good hits in 16 attempts with four kills.

"J.P. was also our best passer in the match," added Coach Sullivan.

Wilson was 8-for-9 serving and 10-for-11 hitting with five kills.

Miller was 9-for-10 serving, including two aces, and he played strong backcourt defense.

Tim Foley was 8-for-9 serving with his consistent drop-down delivery.

"Our hitting was off," said Coach Sullivan. "We kept shooting ourselves in the foot with typical first-match mistakes. We had problems doing the basics.

"It wasn't pretty, but a win is a win. Brockton is a team I thought we could have dominated and should have crushed.

"It's still a good way to open, and I can see we're going to get better and stronger."

JVs romp

The Andover junior varsity set the winning tone with a 2-0 romp in the prelim, capturing the first game 15-2 and the second 15-6.

Sparking this victory were sophomore Shaun Rodriquez, 9-for-9 serving with two aces, sophomore Joe Hogarty, 7-for-7 serving, and Jeung An with 8-for-9 serving including two aces.

Holliston Play Day

Andover provided a preview of what could be a banner season at last weekend's Holliston Play Day.

The Golden Warriors, who left Andover High at 7:30 a.m. and didn't return until 6 p.m., played 13 games and won them all while facing seven schools including traditional powers New Bedford, Brookline, host Holliston, Newton North, Milford, Natick and Glastonbury, Conn.

"It was a long but satisfying and productive day," said Coach Sullivan. "We played two games or 25 minutes against each opponent. A couple of the games were close, but we won them all."

The Golden Warriors, with four of their first five matches away from home, hosted J.D. O'Bryant of Boston yesterday and return to the court tomorrow at St. John's Prep of Danvers (3:30 p.m.) and next Monday at Milford (4 p.m.).

MacInnis is on winning team

Nicholas MacInnis, 12, son of Paul and Susan MacInnis of Morton Street, is a member of the Under-12 Indoor Soccer National champions. Mass Machine, made up of players from eastern Massachusetts, went 5-1 overall in the competition held in Atlanta, Ga., recently. Eighteen teams from 10 states competed.

Mass Machine defeated Cleveland United 5-2 after victories over teams from Dallas, Texas, Georgia, Buffalo, N.Y., and Sacramento, Calif.

Nicholas is in the seventh grade at Doherty Middle School and is an honor roll student. He also plays for the Methuen Lions, 1993 Essex County Division 3 Under-12 runners up; the Greater Boston Bolts, 1993 Under-12 state champions; and the District 5 Massachusetts Olympic Development team.

AHS boys tennis coach has confidence in team

By Rick Harrison

Once again it appears as though every other boys tennis team in the Merrimack Valley Conference will be playing for second place, while Andover High runs away with its eighth league championship in the past decade.

Not one serve, backhand volley or topspin lob has been struck in an official match yet, but there seems little doubt the Golden Warriors will reign supreme in 1994.

"We have depth in singles and we're solid at first doubles," said Coach Mike Wartman. "The only real pre-season question is who will be the No. 2 doubles team."

The coach's statement was made earlier this week, with the team still in the middle of challenge matches to establish positions.

There is a certain pecking order in high school tennis, a ladder that must be established and climbed through intra-squad matches to reach a spot on the first team.

The Andover boys are coming off a perfect 16-0 league season, which included 14 shutout wins (5-0).

Chelmsford, the last league team to beat Andover, was the only MVC opponent to score a point against the locals last spring as AHS beat the Lions 3-2 and 4-1.

In the Eastern Mass. Division 1 North Tournament the Golden Warriors edged Burlington, 3-2, and blanked Newton North, 5-0, before bowing to eventual state champ Concord-Carlisle 3-2 in the North semifinals.

It was the furthest Andover had gone in Division 1.

In Division 2 Andover put together a string of four straight North championships in the late 1980's, reaching the state final where they were beaten three times by Sharon and once by Duxbury.

Coach Wartman's teams have won or shared seven league championships in his nine years at the helm.

The Andover boys enter the season riding a string of 17 straight league victories since a 3-2 loss to Chelmsford on May 20, 1992.

They are 137-9 in their last 146 league matches and 162-18 in the last 180 matches including tournament play.

Grads and veterans

Gone from last year's squad are No. 1 singles player and MVC co-Player-of-the-Year Eric Block, now attending Tulane University, and doubles standouts Erik Dahlstrand (University of Rochester) and John Faldetta (Vanderbilt).

Block was 12-3 in singles play last year, his only league loss to co-MVP Eric Kaplan of Chelmsford with whom he split two matches. As a junior in 1992 Block went 13-2 in MVC singles (playing No. 2 behind Paul Bernardin) and was 17-4 including tournament matches.

Dahlstrand and Faldetta finished 10-4 as a doubles tandem last year.

Five regular starters from the 1993 squad head the list of returning veterans.

Senior Captain Dan Queen was 16-1 overall last year while playing primarily No. 2 singles. He was undefeated in league play and earned first-team All-Conference.

As a sophomore in 1992, Queen alternated between the No. 2 and 3 singles positions and compiled a 12-1 league record and 17-2 overall ledger including state individual and team tournament play.

Sophomore Mike Stein completed the entire 1993 season undefeated, 14-0, while playing 12 of his 14 singles matches at No. 3. He also was named first-team All-Conference.

Senior Captain Adam Monahan was 2-0 in singles and 11-0 while playing with two doubles partners. He is making a strong bid to crack the singles lineup this year.

Completing the group of talented returnees are senior Captain Jon Iarrobino and sophomore Kurt Dahlstrand, both of whom had stellar doubles records in 1993.

Iarrobino was 8-0 in doubles, 1-0 in singles, while Kurt Dahlstrand was 10-0 in doubles and 1-0 in singles.

As a sophomore in 1992, Iarrobino was 10-2 while playing doubles with John Faldetta and Andy Cohen.

Other returning varsity lettermen among the 36 original candidates, trimmed to a squad of 22, are senior Will Hall, senior Akil Palinsamy and junior Eric Pisick.

All three are primarily doubles players and each was unbeaten in limited varsity time last spring, Pisick 2-0 with Rick Crispo (now running track) and the Hall-Palinsamy duo 1-0.

Elevated from the junior varsity are junior Dan Gutstein and sophomores Ravi Therasvyi, Jay Levine and Mike Wellikoff.

Two other players are recuperating from serious injuries, junior Scott Munroe suffering a broken leg early in the hockey season (December) and sophomore Derek DeAngelis a broken arm while snowboarding.

Opener Wednesday

Coach Wartman believes Chelmsford, whose star player Kaplan graduated last June, will provide the stiffest challenge in the league.

On a larger scale, St. John's Prep of Danvers and defending state champ Concord-Carlisle figure to be potent in the tournament.

Andover will have a practice match with Phillips Academy during school vacation week, and a non-league clash with St. John's Prep has been added on May 26.

This season's opening match is scheduled next Wednesday afternoon at Wilmington, with the home opener at the AHS courts on Tuesday, April 19, versus Methuen.

Near-perfect girls tennis team is 'much stronger than last spring'

By Rick Harrison

The news is not exactly what the rest of the Merrimack Valley Conference girls tennis teams wanted to hear.

It's a definite case of "the rich getting richer."

The Andover High girls have won nine league tennis championships in the last 10 years, are an amazing 122-1 in their last 123 MVC matches, have put together three straight 16-0 conference campaigns, and have won 49 consecutive league matches since a 3-2 loss to Lowell on May 21, 1990.

There didn't figure to be any serious chinks in the Lady Warriors' armor this spring, especially with two-time MVC "Player-of-the-Year" Alison Georgian back for her fourth go-around at the No. 1 singles position.

However, the addition of another freshman phenom and a Russian-born transfer from South Carolina have virtually ensured yet another perfect (ho-hum) regular season for the locals.

"We're much stronger than we were last spring," asserted fifth-year Coach Tony Russo, confirming the fears of all opposing players soon to be thrown to the Andover lions once again.

"We have three exceptionally talented singles players and skill-wise we're much improved over a year ago."

Ouch!

After blitzing MVC foes last spring, all but three of the matches 5-0 shutouts, the Lady Warriors won Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament decisions over Newton South (4-1) and Winchester (4-1) before being crunched 5-0 by Concord-Carlisle in the North Division semifinals.

C-C is to the entire state what Andover is to the MVC, the Lady Patriots having won nine consecutive state championships and 11 in the last 12 years.

Concord-Carlisle also shows no signs of letting up this season, but this may be the year Andover mounts its stiffest challenge for all the honors.

Last spring's 18-1 overall record left the Lady Warriors at 132-8 in their last 140 outings, including tournament play.

Andover graduated three key doubles players from last year, longtime tandem Beth Everett and Julie Doherty (9-1 in 1993) and Kara Gack who was 8-1 overall with two partners.

Georgian rules

Senior Co-Captain Alison Georgian, 13-1 overall last year and 39-3 over three seasons, will soon make her college choice while continuing to dominate MVC opponents.

She is waiting to hear from Colby and Bates after being accepted at Villanova, University of North Carolina-Charlotte and University of Massachusetts-Amherst.

Other returning regulars among the 24 original candidates are junior Jackie LeMaitre, junior Jen Griffin and sophomore Andrea Marvin.

Three-year veteran LeMaitre and second-year player Marvin will be paired as a top doubles team, while third-year regular Griffin will join healthy senior Carrie Green as the other probable starting tandem.

LeMaitre was 9-1 with three doubles partners last year (primarily Kara Gack), and she also went 2-0 in singles. Partner Andrea Marvin was 4-0 in doubles and 5-2 in singles.

Griffin, battling a nagging back injury, was 6-1 in stints at all three singles positions and 1-0 in doubles.

Carrie Green has recuperated impressively from a knee injury that forced her to miss the 1993 tennis season. She was 11-4 her sophomore year in singles.

Coach Russo anticipates a Guerrera-Mitchell doubles team. They were 1-1 as a duo last year and both also went 1-0 in singles.

Cavicchi was 2-0 in both doubles and singles last year, Miss Fenton 5-0 with two doubles partners, Miss Cowhig 3-0 in doubles with three partners, Miss Escott 1-0 in doubles, Miss Pauley 1-0 in singles and doubles, and Miss Su 1-0 in singles and 2-0 in doubles.

Jackie Escott is currently recovering from a leg injury.

against MVC members Methuen and Tewksbury, and the 20-game schedule also features the four-team Lawrence Tournament May 27 and 29.

AHS faces North Andover in the semifinal round of the tourney on May 27 at Mark Devlin Field (7 p.m.), while Central Catholic and the host school clash in the other first rounder.

Tough league

The Merrimack Valley Conference, one of the best baseball leagues in the state, will again be very strong.

In addition to Andover, Large School powers include Central Catholic, Lowell, Methuen and Chelmsford.

Central is the defending Eastern Mass. Division 1 North champion, with pitchers Ryan Kearney and Matt Cassano leading a veteran cast who will miss graduate Al Blackington.

Lowell also returns two top hurlers from last season, righthander Steve Cushing (6-3, 1.17 ERA) and lefty John Morris (3-0, 1.16 ERA).

Methuen will be tough as long as there is a Ruggiero (Bob and Mark) in the lineup, and the city's summer league teams have been outstanding the past few years.

Chelmsford has a number of outstanding all-around athletes from its hockey and basketball tournament qualifiers, including John Myers, Ryan Murphy, Rick Sacchetti, Jason Fredette and Aaron Robinson. Former Rollins College star and St. Louis Cardinals minor leaguer Harry Ball Jr. is a new assistant with the Lions.

On the Small School side Billerica, Tewksbury and Lawrence High are the top contenders.

Billerica, whose program spawned major league Cy Young Award winner Tom Glavine of the Atlanta Braves (three straight 20-win seasons) and current California Angels shortstop Gary DiSarcina, has another major leaguer prospect in Mike Mastrullo.

Tewksbury, with young (26-year-old) and enthusiastic first-year coach Ron Drouin, is a senior-laden squad with a hard-nosed pitcher (Herb King) and several excellent all-around athetes (football QB Chris Snow, All-Conference hoopster Brian Morris).

In addition, the assistant varsity coach of the Redmen this spring is Andover's Leo Gravell.

Lawrence High should be dangerous any time Max Nunez takes the mound.

Andover's first home game is next Wednesday afternoon against Tewksbury (3:30 p.m.), while the league opener is scheduled for vacation week on Wednesday, April 20 at home versus Wilmington (2 p.m.).

Meet the phenoms

The two new singles standouts are freshman Heather Young and junior transfer Irana Mogilevich.

Young is ranked among the top 10 in her division on the NELTA (New England Lawn Tennis Association) circuit, and has sharpened her skills while competing in numerous tournaments.

Mogilevich has spent numerous hours trading shots with Alison Georgian since moving to Andover from South Carolina.

"When I heard she was coming I immediately hooked Irana up with Alison," said Coach Russo. "They've been practicing together for awhile and it's helped both players."

Other varsity newcomers, all of whom will play doubles with an occasional shot at singles, are sophomore Kristy Marsh and freshmen Catherine Bukulski, Dara Eksfa and Sarah Plamondon.

"I expect to rotate all of them into the lineup throughout the season for playing experience," explained Coach Russo. "Our overall strength will depend on how quickly the doubles teams come together. They'll have to jell for us to go deep into the tournament.

"It's going to be interesting."

Opener Wednesday

The Lady Warriors were scheduled to scrimmage Reading, Phillips Academy, Brooks School and Lynnfield.

The MVC regular season opener is next Wednesday afternoon at Wilmington (3:30 p.m.), and the home opener at the AHS courts on April 19 versus Methuen (10 a.m.).

Five of the first seven matches are away from home.

Coach Russo feels Lowell and Chelmsford will again provide the most serious league competition, while joining Concord-Carlisle as State Division 1 powers should be Winchester and Peabody.

First two weeks crucial for softball team

By Rick Harrison

The first two weeks of the season are going to be crucial for the 1994 Andover High varsity softball team.

"We definitely need a few early wins," said fifth-year Coach Ken Pellerin. "If we get off to a decent start it should be interesting the rest of the way."

The Lady Warriors will need that quick shot of confidence because the team is very young, and the majority of the players are learning new positions.

"We're moving people around," noted Coach Pellerin, "and we could be starting as many as five or six sophomores. It's the youngest Andover softball team in quite awhile."

Last year AHS finished 8-12 overall, recovering from a rough first half to post a 6-5 record in its last 11 games.

Graduates from that 1993 squad are All-Conference selection Lindsey Sweeney, who recently transferred from a Florida to a Texas college, Amy Cassidy (Notre Dame), Gina Paone (St. Anselm), Sharon "Mighty Might" Su and Jenna DeMarco.

Seven veterans

Among the 38 candidates this year are seven varsity returners, two of whom saw little action because of injuries.

Licata played just one game before suffering a shoulder injury and Miss Munroe was sidelined with a knee injury.

Senior Rachel Buonopane would have been the eighth veteran this year, but a back injury aggravated late in the basketball season has placed her on the disabled list with orders from her doctor to stay on the sidelines.

WORN BALL JOINTS

The first step that car owners should take to correct a front-end shimmy is to have the front wheels balanced. If this does not cure the problem, the auto technician may want to check for worn ball joints. These are the parts that connect the lower control arm of the front suspension to the steering knuckle. If a ball joint displays up-and-down (axial) free play or side-to-side (radial) free play, it probably requires replacement. However, if the car needs a new ball joint on one side, it does not necessarily follow that the ball joint on the other side also needs to be replaced. This is also true of cars necessarily be replaced in pairs.

If your vehicle is experiencing any signs of not being aligned or balanced correctly, it is important not to ignore the problem in the event that the problem can worsen drastically. The service technicians here at Nassar Ford will happily inspect any problem and will always provide an hones diagnosis and a very reasonable estimate of the repairs needed. You may want to browse through our selection of new and used cars and trucks. We will help you select a vehicle to fit every personal taste and budget requirement. We are located at 320 S. Broadway (688-6904). Our service department is open M-F 7-5:30.

HINT: A loud front-end clunk heard upon applying brakes may also be an indication of a badly worn ball joint

No. 1 pitcher this spring, after seeing limited mound time behind ace Lindsey Sweeney last year. She was the pitcher of record in a loss to Lawrence and also made several relief appearances.

Meghan Lynch and Andrea Marino will play left and center field respectively, both shifting from other outfield positions, while Eileen Sweeney succeeds Sharon Su behind the plate after playing third base most of last year.

Elaine Licata has looked excellent at third and Jen Munroe ditto at first during pre-season workouts.

New to the varsity mix are several players from Coach Sandy Lunt's junior varsity team, also 8-12 last year, and Coach Dave Gangi's freshman crew which finished 9-6.

This group includes senior first baseman Mandy Wilson, senior pitcher Jen Thomson, senior second baseman-right fielder Amy Espindle, sophomore shortstop Sue Cookson, junior outfielder-catcher Aprille Canniff, sophomore outfielder-catcher Beth Lee, sophomore outfielder Deana Gray, sophomore first baseman Jen Aylward and junior second baseman Roberta Paone.

Thomson has secured the No. 2 spot in the pitching rotation, while Cookson has the inside track to fill the shortstop hole vacated by Amy Cassidy.

Several sophomores, including Misses Lee, Gray and Aylward, will likely split their time between the varsity and JV teams.

Additional pitching prospects, who will open the season with the junior varsity, are sophomore Ashley Nowell, freshman Kristen Wysocki and freshman Jen Berube.

Freshmen are given the option of trying out for the varsity or ninth grade team.

Evaluating the team

"The team strengths are plenty of natural athletic ability and good knowledge of the game," said Coach Pellerin, whose 1991 club qualified for the Eastern Mass. Division 1 Tournament where it bowed to Woburn in the first round.

"The veterans have come to play and are providing strong leadership.

"It's nice to have two windmill pitchers (Blank, Thomson). Neither one is a particularly hard thrower, but both come from very competitive, athletic families."

The bloodlines for both girls are impressive.

Vanessa is the younger sister of former AHS pitching/hitting standout and current South Florida University hurler Dave Blank, while Jen Thomson's mother Pat coached varsity softball at Andover High for many years.

"Vanessa has good mechanics and she works very hard," continued Coach Pellerin. "All she needs now is game experience. She reminds me a lot of (Haverhill pitcher) Sherri Martino. Not overpowering, but good stuff and someone who is going to improve every time out.

"Elaine Licata is an aggressive player who has looked very good at third. Defense will be the key. Teams will put the ball in play against our pitchers, and the majority of our fielders have yet to be tested under fire.

"Team speed is above average and we should hit better than last year. Vanessa Blank will be the cleanup hitter and her average was close to .300 last spring. Mindy Fox, Meghan Lynch and Aprille Canniff have also hit well during the preseason."

Opener Saturday

The Lady Warriors were scheduled to face Pentucket Regional in a practice game earlier this week, and the regular season opener is this Saturday morning against non-league foe North Andover at the Scarlet Knights' Middle School field (10 a.m.).

The league and home opener is next Wednesday, April 13, against defending State Division 2 champion Wilmington High and its ace senior pitcher Adrienne Fay at the West Middle School field (3:30 p.m.).

Coach Pellerin is pleased with the overdue off-season work done on the skin portion of the West Middle infield.

"Bye-bye launching pad," he noted. "The bounces and rolls will be much truer on the softer surface."

The coach feels the Small School half of the Merrimack Valley Conference will be tough this spring. Miss Fay is back at Wilmington, traditional powers Dracut and Methuen are expected to contend, and Lawrence is much improved.

On the Large School side, Chelmsford has a top-notch veteran pitcher in Theresa Daley and Haverhill is always dangerous because of its talented multi-sport athletes.

Andover will play an 18-game league schedule plus two with North Andover, the return match at West Middle on May 26.

Sean Ryan wraps up season at Monmouth

Sean Ryan of Andover, a 6'1" sophomore shooting guard for the Monmouth College mens varsity basketball team, finished his second season with the Hawks sporting an impressive 43.3 three-point field goal shooting percentage.

Ryan connected on 45 of 104 long range shots. He played in 26 games, starting 25, and scored in double figures eight times including a season-high 17 points against Mt. St. Mary's of Maryland in the Northeast Conference Tournament quarterfinals.

Ryan already is third on Monmouth's all-time career three-point field goal list with 73 trifectas. His 42.9 career percentage from treyland is also third best in school history. Monmouth closed with an 18-11 overall record, including 13-5 as Northeast Conference runner-up, missing out on an automatic NCAA Tournament berth after losing to Rider College 62-56 in the playoff final.

He is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryan, Cindy Lane. His father was longtime and highly-successful coach of the Lowell High boys' varsity basketball team.

School building project

that could be eliminated with the passage of Article 20, the school buildings project, say school officials. But the project costs $40.5 million.

20

This is one of the main reasons town officials are expecting a vast crowd to attend Town Meeting, beginning Monday, April 11.

Residents will have to determine if the supposed results will be worth the sticker price.

Approximately $26.5 million of the $40.5 million project will be used for renovations and additions to the buildings and grounds of Andover High School. No more than $7,964,803 will be spent on renovations and additions to the buildings and grounds of South Elementary, no more than $3,993,344 will be spent for renovations and space additions to the buildings and grounds of Sanborn Elementary, and approximately $2 million will be allocated for a technology piece to update the remaining school buildings equitably.

Why now?

The three general reasons supporters of the school buildings project give for doing the project now are to ease student overcrowding and thereby improve the educational environment, to have the state assist with payment on maintenance projects that must be conducted soon anyway, and to receive a greater percentage of state aid than is expected after this year for school buildings projects.

State officials have given the School Building Committee preliminary indications that $38.5 million of the project will be reimbursed at 60 percent for both the initial cost and interest of the project. The $2 million technology piece will not be reimbursed by the state. The town is responsible for the entire cost of this $2 million component.

State officials have told the School Building Committee that after this year it is probable it will no longer provide 60 percent reimbursement of the interest, adding millions of dollars to this proposal if it is put off just one year. Project specifications and figures must be submitted to the state by June 1, according to Jim Marsh, chairman of the building committee.

Clearly, one of the most important reasons for the project in the eyes of School Committee members is because it will add 400 seats to Andover High and 141 seats to South. This will help to deal with the school system's bulging number of students.

Though the elementary population is expected to come back down after reaching a high-water mark next school year, the population figures from this October for all four K-5 schools are well over the numbers recommended by the School Committee.

These population figures are significantly under the absolute maximum capacity allowed. However, the maximum figures are calculated based on an average class size of 29 students for the third, fourth and fifth grades. The existence of one class of 29 students to go along with other classes of 28, 28 and 27 in the third grade at Bancroft this year has led to numerous complaints at PTO and School Committee functions.

According to Mark McQuillan, superintendent of schools, the 141 seats to be added to South School, combined with maximum utilization of the under-used Shawsheen School, should help to bring class sizes back to a more reasonable level. The High School would be ready by fall of 1996 to seat 1,700 students.

The school buildings project also contains approximately $12 million for deferred maintenance projects that the town will eventually have to pay for entirely, without 60 percent reimbursement from the state, according to school officials.

"The majority of the money going into Sanborn is for renovations which have been deferred for years and years," said Bill Huston, School Committee member.

High School

The $40.5 million project has been altered many times since its creation, and architects and school officials will continue to fine tune the proposal until the June 1 state deadline. If Article 20 is approved at Town Meeting, within 45 days voters must pass a debt exclusion override of Proposition 2 1/2.

According to Mr. Marsh, Andover High will look like a different building when the project is finished. This is not just because 400 seats, a science wing and a new gymnasium will be added.

"The entire school will be brought up to the standards of the 21st century such that it will be a 50-year school," he said. "Every inch of flooring will be attended to. Every inch of ceiling will be looked at."

Even the approach to the building will be different, as the entrance to the High School site off of Shawsheen Road will be moved further down toward West Middle School and wind around the far side of the sledding hill. This approach road will become a two-way access, allowing cars and buses to loop around and come back out the same way. Sidewalks will be added on each side and connect the West Middle parking lot to provide additional parking for any future Collins Center events.

The current parking lot will become a new baseball diamond and new parking will be created at the far side of the building, next to the new gym, and by the tennis courts. In total, approximately 90 new parking spaces will be created.

The new science wing, built onto the back of the building, will enclose a locked courtyard. The wing will include nine science labs, seven science classrooms, and 10 general classrooms, Mr. Marsh said Tuesday night. Science teachers have said the current labs are too small for the number of students they have, and they are substantially smaller than state education specifications.

A new gymnasium, to be connected to the existing Dunn Gymnasium, will include four regulation basketball courts and a 1/11 mile track. The new facility will provide for greater community use, according to school officials. Athletes could play either basketball or volleyball on the two middle courts, while joggers and runners circle the track that cuts across the two outside courts.

A new baseball and softball field will be added to the High School land, helping to provide equal facilities for boys' and girls' school sports and community activities.

The lauded floor in Dunn Gym will remain, a new and expanded weight room will be added, and the locker rooms and showers will be entirely re-done. The tennis courts closest to the middle school will be resurfaced and repositioned so that the sun is no longer in players' eyes, and two basketball courts will be added.

"You could almost play grass-court tennis on the grass" that has grown through the pavement, said architect David Soleau.

"At the High School facility, that whole field complex is going to be renovated. I think we're maximizing use of the High School site," said Dick Bourdelais, schools director of physical education. "The additional gymnasium will open up our physical education curriculum substantially."

Renovation will be a key element throughout the program, as the heating, lighting and

Selectmen: Wait on video games

By Don Staruk

Selectmen postponed until their April 25 meeting a decision on a request by The Boston Card Co., in Olde Andover Village, for an automatic amusement license that would allow four video games in the store.

Lee Rosenberg, owner of the store, wants the games to be available Monday through Saturday, from noon to 7 p.m.

Selectmen chairman Gerald Silverman said the board has opposed allowing "video parlors" over the years, although it has approved up to three machines in some businesses. Mr. Silverman defined a video parlor as "something that's going to bring in more people to play video games (than for the other business in the establishment). To me that's a parlor," Mr. Silverman said.

There was some confusion among board members and Randy Hanson, town clerk, as to whether the board had previously allowed three or four machines, and selectmen postponed the decision to get more information on their past practice for similar requests.

River Road bridge to expand

Buzz Stapczynski, town manger, told selectmen Monday night that the state Department of Transportation has decided to expand the River Road bridge over Interstate 93 in West Andover to five lanes, as was requested by selectmen.

The bridge is currently two lanes.

Snow busters lauded

Sharon Souza, coordinator of senior services, and selectmen awarded certificates to 34 Andover High School volunteers who served as snow busters this past winter, shoveling snow for senior citizens free of charge.

"I'm sure they had no idea we were getting 90 inches of snow," Ms. Souza said of the students.

Four of the students, all of whom are members of the committee for Intergenerational Activities at AHS, accepted the certificates on behalf of all the snow busters.

Seniors withdraw their land article months their request for the town to buy the Elks property at 400 S. Main St. Article 67 had asked for $500,000 to buy the land.

Mr. Epstein said seniors would like to bring the request back to residents, possibly at a special town meeting in the fall, after seniors have a chance to answer a lot of questions people have on the project.

Don Robb, Finance Committee chairman, lauded the seniors' request, saying that the FinCom also had many questions that need to be answered about the purchase of the property .

Selectmen responded by withdrawing Article 67, which selectmen had put on the warrant at the behest of seniors.

Buzz Stapczynski, town manager, asked Mr. Epstein to contact his office so the town manager could help seniors set up a time line to get the request organized for the fall.

Mr. Epstein said the seniors' goal is to build a new senior center for $3.3 million, which they have said they will raise themselves. They've asked the town to provide them with a piece of land on which to build it.

needs students. Under the 1993 Education Reform Act principals have the power to expel students carrying weapons. However, the schools must pay for their education outside the system.

According to school officials, after Medicaid pays its share, the schools will owe approximately $36-38,000 as of right now. School officials said they expect to be able to absorb the cost but want Article 24 passed as a safety net.

"We want it as a back-up, but we're hoping not to use it at all," said Bill Huston, School Committee member.

• The School Committee is also supporting Article 31, an article seeking to provide an Early Retirement Initiative Program for members of the Massachusetts Teachers Retirement System. The state plan allows teachers to add five years to either their age, their years of service, or a combination thereof to arrive at what is essentially a pension, according to Gail Zeman, schools business manager.

In the interest of equity, and at the request of committee member Mary Lyman, the school department also looked at offering a three-year plan similar to the one offered to town employees last year. But School Committee member said they found the five-year option to be a better plan.

If passed this proposal will ultimately save the school money, as younger teachers at lower salaries will replace the retiring teachers. This is the second year of a two-year-only plan.

• The School Committee also has two articles that it plans to withdraw on the Town Meeting floor. One seeks to purchase land for future High School site expansion.

"That was looked at and there's wetlands there," said Jim Marsh, chairman of the School Building Committee. "They didn't think it was worth the investment."

The other article seeks the establishment of a check-off box on tax bills that residents could mark to indicate a $1 donation to a local education fund.

"We certainly believe in doing it, but it wasn't clear how (collection) would be administered yet," said Dick Muller, School Committee chairman. "That will be back next year."

Selectmen: No position on Alderbrook Rd.

Selectmen Monday night voted 3-2 not to take any position on Article 22, which would allow the town to take by eminent domain a private section of Alderbrook Road.

Residents who live on the road and others who live on the adjacent Sunset Rock Road and Countryside Way disagree on whether the town should pave the road.

The section in question is privately owned by the resident who owns land on it. Selectmen two weeks ago postponed a decision on whether to support the article at Town Meeting so they could visit the site, which they did, but most said they still could not make a decision and it and that they had changed their minds on it more than once.

Selectmen James Barenboim recommended they take no position on it and let residents decide for themselves at Town Meeting. Selectman Bill Downs said it was the members' elected responsibility to take a position. Mr. Downs and Gerald Silverman voted to take a position. Mr. Barenboim, Charles Wesson and Larry Larsen voted not to take a position.

School project . . .

acoustics of the building will all be improved. Although more than 80,000 square feet will be added to the High School, school officials still expect substantial savings in heating the entire new complex.

"It's unbelievable in terms of how much electric heating costs us," said Mr. Huston.

The two sections of the library will be connected, expanding the space available to the media center, and a new entrance to the building will be created. The old entrance will be destroyed, and a patio will be created outside the cafetorium where students could congregate after lunch. The new entrance will be in the area between the Dunn Gymnasium and the main building, and administration offices will be moved toward this entrance.

Mr. Soleau said little will have to be done to the Collins Center.

Approximately $1.5 million will be used for a technology update, including a fully operational information network.

South School

"In the day-to-day living here the teachers are lacking a facility in terms of the way they would like to teach," said Eileen Woods, principal of South.

Teaching goes on in hallways and storage spaces, and art is conducted by a teacher wheeling a cart of supplies from room to room.

The 141 seats to be added to South will help to alleviate these problems and similar problems at other schools, once redistricting is established.

There will also be a new gym, open for greater community access, and a regulation soccer field added in back of the building. This will help to stop the practice of conducting gym activities in the cafeteria and on hot top because of a lack of space.

There will be approximately 35 new parking spaces and a double-looped drop-off area for cars and buses.

The current gym will become the media center; the current cafetorium will become art and music space; and a new cafetorium will be built. But other than the 141-seat addition, the most substantial element of the South proposal is what it will do in terms of maintenance. The project will pay for a new roof, double-paned windows, and insulation around all the exterior, and currently highly inefficient, walls.

"We have leaks here. It's unbelievable. I put wet floor signs in the hallways, books get damaged. I don't mean to sound doom and gloom," said Ms. Woods, citing the efforts of her staff. "It's a wonderful place over here. But there are buckets around. When it rains it feels like it's raining inside. It's that loud."

Sanborn School

Many of the same elements of the South project will also be added to Sanborn, including the double-looped drop-off, additional parking and maintenance updates.

The wiring and conduits needed to prepare the schools for a future computer network will be installed at both schools while the walls are torn apart to add insulation.

"You're looking at developing the infrastructure much as you would with plumbing," said Mr. Huston.

A new media center, rooms for special education and music classes, and storage area will be added to the Sanborn facility.

"We're going to be freeing up space that will allow them to use two more classroom spaces without actually creating classrooms," said Mr. Marsh. This will mean there will be 17 classrooms instead of 15.

Playing fields will also be expanded, drainage will be improved and a true Little League diamond will be created.

"I don't consider what they (currently) have there a diamond," said Mr. Bourdelais. "It's throw-down-a-base-and-make-a-field.

Technology

Because South and Sanborn will receive a technology infusion, the School Committee is recommending a technology update to the other schools in the system. The other elementary schools will receive the same upgrade as South and Sanborn, and the middle schools will have a fully operational information network.

There will also be a video network at each of the primary and secondary schools.

"There's approximately six to eight channels they can bring in. Let's say the want to watch a rocket go into outer space," said Mr. Huston. "It's a way we can really bring in and control the video and audio information."

According to Matt Lennon, the goals for the technology piece are to provide for better implementation of the existing curriculum, replace obsolete and broken-down equipment, provide training for the staff, and improve the administrations' ability to keep track of student records.

Preliminary estimates for allocation of the $2 million piece show that approximately $420,000 would be spent for computer networking at the two middle schools, while $20,000 would be spent at each of the remaining school buildings. Approximately $110,000 will be spent on training of personnel across the six locations included in the $2 million piece.

Approximately $440,000 will be spent on equipment, $275,000 on the video networks, $205,000 on software, and $50,000 on planning.

Call live show tonight with questions

A group of town and school officials plan to go on the air live tonight, Thursday, April 7, to answer residents' questions regarding the $40.5 million school building project.

This phone-in show represents a last-ditch effort at outreach before Town Meeting begins Monday. The live show will air from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on the local cable access station, TCI Cablevision of Andover.

"People can call in with questions on anything they want to ask," said Jim Marsh, chairman of the School Building Committee. "It's kind of a last minute thing."

Six phone lines will be open. Several town officials will answer questions, including the town manager.

1994 Property Evaluation

Revaluation shuffled variety of property values

Both residential and commercial/industrial markets now show signs of stability, growth

Andover went through a complete inspection and revaluation of all property in town last year that showed a change in many property values, particularly commercial and industrial property, which dropped an average of 25 percent from the previous year. Residential properties on average stayed fairly stable, although homes in the downtown area saw some significant increases.

Patriot Properties of Peabody was hired to perform residential property inspections, which involved physically counting how many bathrooms, porches and other significant features houses had, and compiling that data for the assessor's office. The assessor and the Board of Assessors then used that data, along with data gathered by town employees on commercial and industrial properties, to set all the property values in town. The entire process used was ultimately approved by the state Department of Revenue.

Residential changes

Several residential properties in the downtown area saw increases in values because land was previously undervalued, and the revaluation found homes in those areas generally selling for much more than their assessments, according Bill Krajeski, the town's chief assessor.

Some residents complained that low-end houses in general, those valued between roughly $100,000 and $200,000, saw dramatic increases in assessments, while homes in the $200,000-plus range were valued lower than independent assessments. Mr. Krajeski said that the area where residential property values dropped consistently across the board was more up in the $400,000 range.

"The big drops were in larger homes," Mr. Krajeski said.

Abatements

A total of 865 abatement applications were filed after the assessments were completed. Approximately half of those have been processed and 142 were approved by last week. [See the partial list of abatements beginning on page 55A.]

Mr. Krajeski said he expects about 300 abatements will ultimately be approved, which he said is typical. He said approving 30 to 40 percent is typical. The rest of the abatement requests are due to be acted on by April 26 and Mr. Krajeski expects to complete them on time.

"We expect to finish them in a timely manner," he said.

Good signs in residential market

Generally speaking, there currently appears to be slow appreciation of homes in Andover, the assessor said. There is a lot of new construction, "which shows there's a demand for new housing."

Home sales in the first quarter of this year to date are up in Andover, from 27 last year to 41 this year. The median sale price for homes in Andover, which is about $240,000, "certainly in the high $230s at this point," according to Mr. Krajeski, has shown stability and some increase. A couple of homes in the $730,000 range have sold recently in town, which has helped push the average sale price up for the first few months of this year, he said. The biggest problem that realtors are having is finding homes to list, Mr. Krajeski said.

"It will be interesting to see what the March/April sales figures will look like," he said.

C/I values drop

One of the complaints with the revaluation figures was the dramatic drop in commercial/industrial values – 25 percent on average.

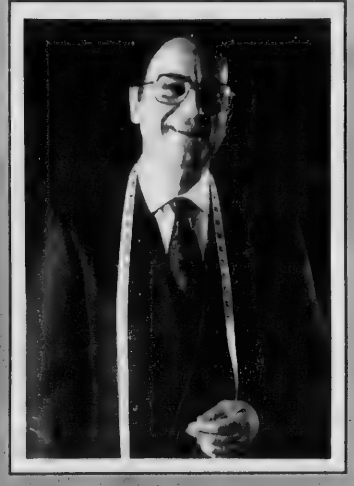

The only definite way to determine what a property is worth is its sale price, according to Mr. Krajeski.

Although Mr. Krajeski suspected there had been a large drop in C/I values in the previous couple of years, because no sales had occurred, he could only guess at the extent of the drop. He did reduce C/I property values a total of about 18 percent in the previous two years, but a handful of sales that occurred in 1992 showed that the decrease in values was even greater, resulting in the additional 25 percent drop.

A bright note is that the commercial and industrial property market may have bottomed out, according to Mr. Krajeski. The sale of that handful of properties in 1992, and some 1993 activity, may be an indicator of that, he said.

Mr. Krajeski said he understands Digital Equipment Corp. is currently structuring a deal for the sale of its property on Minuteman Road. Another indicator of activity in the C/I market is the proliferation of REITS, real estate investment trusts. REITS are partnerships of speculators buying buildings to build investment portfolios, he said. REITS are on the increase and that is good news for the C/I property owners.

The bad news is that, since investors are able to buy existing buildings for $40 a square foot, there is still no incentive to buid new C/I space at a cost of about $60 a square foot, according to Mr. Krajeski.

Tax increase

The 1994 property evaluations were based on property values as of Jan. 1, 1993, which was arrived at by looking at property transactions in 1992. These figures were used to set the tax rate for Fiscal 1994, which began on July 1, 1993, and ends June 30, 1994.

Selectmen in November increased the tax classification shift for Fiscal '94 from 120 percent to 135 percent, raising the average residential tax rate about 7 percent from Fiscal '93 and the commercial and industrial rate 24 percent.

Residential tax rates increased from $14.10 per $1,000 to $15.14. A house valued at $250,000 last year paid $3,525 in property taxes. If the value of the house has remained the same, that homeowner is paying $3,785 this year, an increase of $260.

The commercial and industrial property increased from $18.36 per $1,000 to $22.78, or $4.42.

Classification shift

The tax classification shift is a mechanism the town uses to balance the portion of the town's tax levy, the amount raised through property taxes, that will be paid by residential and commercial and industrial property owners. The tax levy was $44.275 million in Fiscal '94. It will go up about $2 million in Fiscal '95, to about $46 million.

Since the town began using a tax shift, it has maintained a roughly 65/35 ratio, with 65 percent of the town's tax levy being paid by residential property-owners and 35 percent paid by commercial and industrial property-owners. In Fiscal '93, the ratio was about 66/34 with a 120 percent shift, meaning C/I property was taxed at 120 percent of its value. That ratio changed to about 70/30 this year with the move to a 135 percent shift.

Even with the shift increase, because of the drop in C/I values, the total amount of taxes collected from C/I property-owners this year will be about $1 million less that last year

The Board of Selectmen is in the process of appointing a committee of residents and business-owners to study classification with the goal of coming up with some recommendations on how the process can be improved.

Restoration to ends and edges and repair of major damage, by skilled technicians.

- Lots of snow and ice means that sand, salt, and grit are now imbedded deep into your valuable orientals. The colors are dull and the fibers are being damaged by the winter residue.

Let Persian Rug Galleries of Nashua, specialists in handwashing of oriental rugs for over 40 years, pick up and wash your orientals. We'll return them to you clean and bright with the colors restored to their original beauty.

EAGLE OFFSET

has taken an active role in dealing with issues of great concern to the future of our environment. Our presses run free of alcohol on alcohol-substitute dampening systems. Solvent alternatives have been tested thoroughly and are in use for cleaning presses, rollers and blankets. Coupling this with the use of soy and vegetable-based inks, we have significantly reduced the amount of volatile organic compounds emitted into the atmosphere and the amount of solid waste going to landfills. We also have an extremely wide selection of recycled papers in stock or readily available through the finest merchants. Because these improvements are important to us and beneficial to our customers, we already meet many environmental guidelines and are consistently researching implementation of others.

*Home Equity Creditline Rates

5.75% rate 6.25% a.p.r. PrimeLife

5.75% rate 7.25% a.p.r. Prime+One

No Closing Costs • No Annual Fees

Commit to another bank on the spur of the moment, and you'll pay the consequences.

But consider the logical attraction of Andover Bank's special new rate–Prime less .5%. It's available on our two most popular Creditlines: Andover PrimeLife (if this will be your only mortgage) and Andover Prime+One. This special rate is good through 12/31/94 (after which you still get a great rate), but you must apply by June 30. And there are no closing costs or annual fees. Don't get stuck with a rate you can't live with.

*Rates quoted above reflect the Prime rate as of 3/31/94 and will change if the Prime rate changes. Prime rate (as published in the Wall Street Journal) adjusted monthly on the last business day of the month, with an 18% lifetime cap. No closing costs apply to lines of credit up to $100,000. Lines of credit over $100,000 are available at the above rates, but will be assessed a $200 appraisal fee. Credit advances are available for ten years. Homeowners insurance is required. If the line is closed within 12 months of opening date, a fee of $150 will be charged. Current Andover Bank customers must qualify for an additional $20,000 to existing Creditline to qualify for these programs.

BEAT THE HIGH COST OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL.

How can you avoid the expense of getting around in a European car? By buying a Saab 900S.

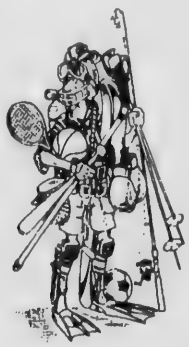

It offers the precise and controlled ride you'd expect from a top European marque, with MacPherson-strut suspension and stabilizer bars anchoring front and rear.

Beyond comfort and performance, the 900S is so safe, it meets 1997 side-impact standards four years ahead of schedule.

Remarkably, the 900S manages to deliver the above without hurting your bottom line. Perhaps you should arrange for a test drive.
